Impatience Grows Over Suez Talk Delays

Little Hope Seen for Tax Cut in New Budget

Peacetime Spending At Record Is Up $4 Billion Over Ike Estimate

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—A new federal budget estimate, boosting the anticipated surplus to a modest 700 million dollars, today left little ground for hope of tax cuts in 1957.

One high administration source said the black-ink margin now foreseeable for fiscal 1957 "is still too narrow to justify any reduction."

THE MID-YEAR budget review, issued last night by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, showed estimated revenues soaring to $69,800,000,000, up $4,300,000,000 from the government income forecast by President Eisenhower in his January budget message to Congress.

But it also showed federal spending amounting to a peacetime record of $69,100,000,000 in the year which started July 1. That is four billion dollars beyond Eisenhower's spending estimate and absorbs most of the revenue gains arising from unparalleled national income and boom-level corporate profits.

THE RESULT is that the anticipated surplus, figured in January to be a little more than 400 million dollars, now is reckoned at 700 million dollars. But that figure is much less than the fiscal 1956 surplus of $1,754,000,000, which the administration considered too small to justify tax cuts this year.

A year ago, the administration foresaw no such surplus, but instead a deficit of $1,700,000,000 for 1956. But business conditions turned out to be much better than they anticipated then.

"Of course you always hope things will come out better," one official conceded when he was reminded of the low August, 1955, estimate.

HE INSISTED, however, that the new revenue estimates, while "reasonably conservative, are not unduly so."

Others have made higher guesses on the 1957 surplus. The staff of the Senate-House economic committee estimated it at $2,200,000,000.

The government's own new estimate was based on a 43 billion dollar annual rate of corporate profits, close to the highest on record, and total personal income of 323 billion dollars, only about 1 billion lower than the actual rate achieved in June.

Most economists foresee a substantial increase in personal incomes in the months ahead which would translate into higher income tax collections. But even if the surplus were two or three times greater than the new official guess, there is no assurance that the administration would recommend tax relief, in view of its position that some reduction of the 27½ billion dollar public debt must come first.

ONE HIGH official said privately the administration may decide to wait until the spring tax collections start coming in and estimates can be made more accurately.

Then, if no general tax reduction seems possible, it may see if some "selective" tax cuts could be given—possibly to small businesses and some groups of individuals.

Parts of State Lashed By Heavy Winds, Rain

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Gusty thunderstorms continued to lash scattered sections of New York state today in the wake of destructive wind, hail and rain that brought at least one death. A check of local utilities early this morning revealed that the Kingston area escaped without damage.

Floods, power failures and fires set by lightning were reported from Long Island to Lake Erie yesterday and last night.

The weather bureau said some storms today might be equally severe. Scattered showers and thunderstorms also were on tap for tomorrow.

Charles Dennison, 32, of Buffalo, was lost in Cayuga Lake when he dived from a boat during the storm in an attempt to retrieve an oar. His outboard motor had failed.

Winds of more than 70 miles an hour whipped Auburn and felled or damaged an estimated 200 trees. A toppling elm crushed an automobile owned by R. M. Stanton of Asbury Park, N. J.

About half of Auburn was without power during the night and nearly 1,000 telephones were out of service.

The New York Telephone Co. said about 3,500 telephones were out of service in Syracuse and its suburbs at one time.

Falling trees and limbs cut power service in scores of communities.

About 3,000 homes in the Albany area were without power temporarily.

Telegraph service was cut during the night to Seneca Falls, Auburn, Newark and Penn Yan. Most of it has been restored.

Highways in the southern tier were flooded. Minor street flooding was reported in Jamestown, Rochester, Seneca Falls, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Windows were broken by hailstones that fell near Clymer in Chautauque county.

Many trees were bowled over. A basket factory in Penn Yan in western New York and an ice cream plant in Syracuse were extensively damaged after lightning-started fires. Smaller fires broke out all through the storm area.

More than an inch of rain fell in Oneonta, Binghamton and Elmira.

The temperature dropped from 86 to 66 degrees in one hour in New York city.

The storms lasted from a half hour to more than an hour.

The Auburn Citizen-Advertiser said it had two inches of water in its pressroom.

Two boys in a rowboat on Owego Lake, near Auburn, swam to shore when the storm struck.

Felled wires on a highway in Claverack, Columbia county, caused a traffic jam that, at one point, had 200 cars tied up.

Electric service to 1,100 Claverack customers was cut when falling limbs tore down wires. About 300 customers in Hudson were without service.

Falling trees blocked Route 23 between Hudson and Great Bar.

Labor Day Toll May Reach 480

Safety Tips Are Offered Drivers

Chicago, Aug. 29 (AP)—Automobiles may kill 480 persons over the Labor Day weekend, the National Safety Council estimated today.

The council urged that drivers team with enforcement officers in an effort to hold the national toll down to no more than 350. The council said this would be a normal traffic death toll for a nonholiday Saturday, Sunday and Monday at this time of year.

The 480 estimate is for the 78-hour period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday and covers immediate traffic deaths only. It does not account for victims dying later from injuries suffered in crashes over the long holiday.

LABOR DAY usually is second only to Christmas as the deadliest holiday period of the year. Travel is heavy because it is the last holiday of the summer, a time for ending vacations, closing summer cottages and returning home for school openings.

The council offered these driving tips: Remember that highways will be crowded and travel slower. Don't take a trip that will require you to hurry. Stay nearer home.

Start in plenty of time so you won't be tempted to take chances.

KEEP YOUR SPEED about the same as other cars on the road. Passing and being passed is one of the most dangerous highway maneuvers.

Don't try to pass a line of cars all at once. Stay behind until each car ahead has passed and you are directly behind the slower moving vehicle.

Avoid sudden stops and lane changing. Signal your intentions and make your moves smoothly.

Don't follow too closely. Give yourself plenty of room to avoid collisions.

Orange Man Held On Murder Count

John L. Lewis, 57, of Newburgh, was arrested Tuesday by Newburgh police on a charge of murder first degree in the death of Amy Stokes, alias Irene Thurston, 33, of Milton, who was stabbed to death August 2.

Miss Stokes was found stabbed to death on the second floor of a vacant house at 57 Smith street, Newburgh. The building was being razed to make way for a parking lot.

The Lewis arrest followed intensive investigation by Lt. Homer Masland, Sgt. William McQuiston and the Newburgh Police Department.

Newburgh police said Lewis had admitted the fatal stabbing of the woman.

He was arraigned before Judge Anthony J. Favino in Newburgh city court, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

Four Men Held by FBI As Acid Case Plotters

$475,000 Bail Set
By JAMES F. TOMLINSON

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Bail totaling $475,000 was set today for five hoodlums accused of plotting the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. A hearing was set for next Wednesday.

Johnny Dio, 39, named as the "mastermind" of the attempt to intimidate Riesel from testifying on labor racketeering before a federal grand jury, was held in $100,000 on a conspiracy charge.

The same amount was set by U. S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishopp for Charles Tuso, 44; Dominic Bando, 47, and Charles Carlinio, 43, all on the same charge. Carlinio formerly had been held in $100,000 as a material witness.

Tommy Dio, 40, Johnny's brother, was held in $75,000 on the conspiracy charge.

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—The FBI today held racketeer Johnny Dio and three other hoodlums as plotters of the acid blinding of Victor Riesel, labor columnist.

Their motive was to intimidate Riesel from testifying on labor racketeering before a federal grand jury, said U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams.

Williams said a "punk"—Abraham Telvi—was hired for $500 to hurl the acid and was slain after demanding $50,000 for the job.

"When Telvi first was approached and got the job to throw the acid he thought it was a man named 'Marshall' and that it was only a husband and wife job, and worth only $500," Williams told newsmen.

"When Gondolfo Miranti, one of the accused conspirators, fingered Mr. Riesel, Telvi then knew who the victim was. He then went back and asked for more money."

Telvi was just a punk and some of the co-conspirators said the job was worth $50,000.

and they said Telvi had been used. Then Telvi sent word back to Dio, and Dio did give him more.

"Telvi was originally slated to get $500 but Johnny Dio sent him $1,500 in all, but some of it stuck to the hands of some of the conspirators."

Nasser Approves Cairo Site for Canal Parley

British Suspicious of Spy Charges; Definite Time Not Revealed by Egypt

London, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Nasser will meet in Cairo with the five-nation Suez Canal committee headed by Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, an official Egyptian source disclosed there today.

But the informant said he could not reveal the time for the meeting, which Menzies has asked be held this week.

There were signs of British and French impatience over delays in getting down to the actual talks with Nasser on the western-sponsored plan for international control of the Suez waterway.

THE BRITISH were suspicious that Nasser had cooked up a spy plot at home that he was backing down by agreeing to listen to the western-sponsored plan for the Suez Canal.

This plan drew the support of 18 nations at the London Suez conference last week. The 18 nations named a 5-nation committee headed by Menzies, who asked the Nasser government last Friday night if he would agree to listen to the committee's explanation of the western plan.

Nasser's reply did not come until yesterday, another communication is now awaited by Menzies agreeing formally to a place and time.

Sir George Young, a British Foreign Office spokesman, said that while no precise deadline had been fixed for a final reply from Nasser, Britain will not stand for "an endless chain of conferences."

Maurice Faure, state secretary at the French Foreign Ministry, took a similar stand. He told a trade fair audience at Gournon in southwestern France that his country would not tolerate the prospect of talks with Egypt bogging down in "eternal palaver."

FAURE SAID failure of Egypt to consider the principles adopted at the London Conference would prove Nasser's regime was motivated by "essentially Imperialist aims."

France would draw the consequences from that, "he said." She would do so with even greater resolution because our British ally has acted closely with us since the start of this crisis."

British newspapers and officials generally linked Egypt's expulsion of two British diplomats on spy charges—denied by Prime Minister Eden's government—with the controversy over the Egyptian president's nationalization of the vital waterway.

THE BRITISH PRESS speculated that Nasser had set off the spy charges to counter any thought among his people that he is backing down in the canal dispute by agreeing to see the five-nation Suez Canal Committee headed by Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies.

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard said the Egyptian government, whatever its motive, has created "a grave new situation bound to prejudice negotiations about the future of the canal."

The Menzies committee waited anxiously for the Egyptian leader to fix a time and place to hear their arguments in favor of putting the canal under international control. Nasser agreed yesterday to get together with the group but did not suggest details of the meeting. Menzies rushed another message to Cairo suggesting talks later this week in the Egyptian capital.

BRITONS WERE angered at the spy charges from Nasser's government, coming at a time when other nations were condoning his actions.

any chance for favors from the Republican Party.

But the council, reportedly against the advice of AFL-CIO President Meany, voted 14-8 to make an endorsement and then cast that endorsement by a 17-5 count to the Democrats.

The decision was steered by a solid bloc of leaders of former CIO unions sparked by former CIO chief Walter Reuther. He had been instrumental at the Democratic Convention in getting Stevenson nominated. Reuther's clique persuaded a sprinkling of former AFL union locals to go along, while eight leaders of former AFL unions opposed any endorsement.

First of 3.5 Million Cars to Undergo Mandatory State Checkup in February

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Not be eligible for registration in 1958, unless the faulty condition is corrected and a new examination passed.

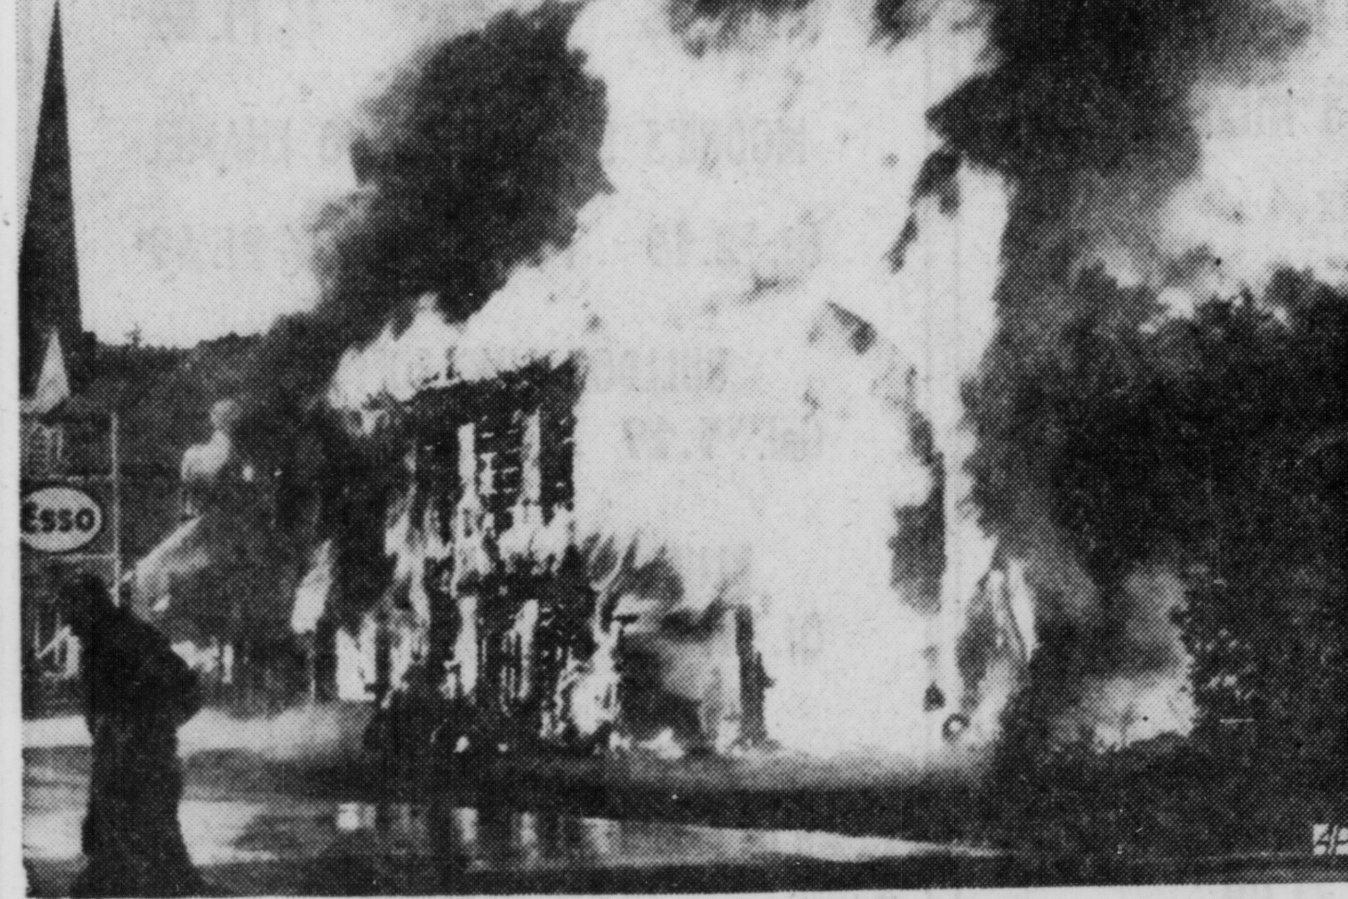

The State Motor Vehicle Bureau says it cannot estimate how many accidents on New York's highways are the result of mechanical failures of vehicles. But a big reduction in the number of accidents is hoped for as a result of the compulsory inspections.

Under a tentative procedure set up by the bureau, automobiles and trucks will undergo inspection of brakes, lights, steering and wheel alignment. A more comprehensive inspection faces big tractor-trailer trucks, but details have not been worked out yet.

In checking foot brakes the inspectors will look for visible leaks or cracks or chafed hoses in hydraulic, vacuum or air lines and cylinders. They'll test, either on a machine or a level, hard and dry surface, the equalization and braking ability of the brakes. In addition, the pedal reserve—whether it goes all or part way to the floor board when stepped on—will be looked at.

The bureau has set up many standards for rejection. Hose lines showing leaks and cracks mean your car won't get an inspection sticker unless the condition is corrected. Neither will a car pass if the brakes are not equalized or if, at a speed of 20 miles an hour, it fails to stop within 25 feet.

Six steps will be taken in the Labor Heads Now Study Plans to Beat Eisenhower

Forest Park, Pa., Aug. 29 (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders, having decided to cast their lot with the Democrats in the coming election, turned today to planning how they can help defeat President Eisenhower.

The powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council wound up a long, closed door argument by voting to recommend formal support for the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee against Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

The decision was reached late yesterday with some misgivings. Some council members felt their 15 million member labor organization would be sticking its neck out and cutting itself off from any chance for favors from the Republican Party.

But the council, reportedly against the advice of AFL-CIO President Meany, voted 14-8 to make an endorsement and then cast that endorsement by a 17-5 count to the Democrats.

The decision was steered by a solid bloc of leaders of former CIO unions sparked by former CIO chief Walter Reuther. Keeper of Family Budget Can Look For Rougher Days

BY SAM DAWSON

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—The keeper of the family budget can look for some rougher days ahead.

Price rises announced this week cover a wide range—coffee and beef, apparel wool and synthetics, salmon and TV sets.

At the manufacturing level price rises in materials—steel scrap and molybdenum, machine tools and chemicals—foretell future hikes in consumer prices.

Some of the higher prices are mainly seasonal and in time are expected to be reversed. The Bureau of Labor statistics blames much of the sharp rise in living costs on unusually high prices for some fresh fruits and vegetables because of crop troubles. Later harvests are expected to ease up this pressure on the family budget.

But some of the price hikes, especially those at the manufacturing level, are blamed on more fundamental things. Higher operating costs and shrinking profit margins are given as the reason.

In time this pressure will work through the many pipelines of trade to reach the retail dealer in consumer goods. What he will do about his own markups—what competition will let him do—remains to be seen.

You can expect higher prices on a number of things soon, however. The price of green coffee beans has risen—the Pan American Coffee Bureau says it's due to a short supply of quality beans—and roasters are raising their wholesale prices by two to four cents a pound. Retail prices are expected to hit the highest mark since early 1955.

THE SALMON CATCH has been skimpy this season and the wholesale price is going up $1 a case.

Prime steers are selling in Chicago at the highest price since a year ago April.

Price tags are up on many fall lines of apparel. Future price hikes are foreshadowed by two events this week. At the first wool auctions of the new season in Australia prices ranged five per cent higher than in the last sales in June. Du Pont has raised by 10 cents a pound the price on the type of dacron fibers that will go into some of next summer's suits.

The parade of price hikes in the appliance markets gathers momentum. Increases of $10 to $30 are announced on refrigerators, freezers and electric ranges. Latest boost on home laundry appliances to be announced range from 5 to 9 per cent. Retail prices on TV sets rise an average of 5 per cent. Furniture makers talk of higher prices to come.

FACTORY PURCHASING agents will have to pay more this week for a number of the basic chemicals. Steel mills are paying from $6 to $8 more a ton for the highest grades of steel scrap and around 7 per cent more for the molybdenum they use in alloys.

The recent rise in steel prices themselves continues its steady spread through many manufacturing industries. Coupled with their own higher labor costs, it has led a number of companies to boost prices on their end products. Many machine tool companies, for example, have boosted their prices by 5 to 15 per cent. It will be some time before such price increases in raw materials and equipment works its way to the retail shop, but the pressure will be there.

And also slowly rising is the price of money if you're looking for a loan to help meet the other rising costs.

STRUGGLE FOR SENATE SEATS

As so often in the past, the battle for control of Congress and especially the Senate promises this year to be spectacularly close.

Even though the present Senate is Democratic by the smallest of margins, the general view a few months ago was that the Republicans had a very slim prospect of gaining command. Now, however, the lines are more tightly drawn and it could be anybody's Senate.

Naturally, the presidential race will attract predominant attention. But the noise of the various Senate tussles should provide some exciting orchestral accompaniment.

Seats are up for grabs in all the nation's most populous states.

New York contenders are not set. Senator Herbert Lehman has announced his retirement and Mayor Wagner may be the Democratic candidate. Attorney General Javits is mentioned as the Republican candidate.

Maryland's faction-ridden Democrats have picked George P. Mahoney. His selection, it is believed, increases the likelihood of a victory for Senator John Butler, Republican incumbent.

In Pennsylvania, rugged Sen. James Duff, Republican, goes against a tough opponent in Joseph Clark, former Democratic mayor of Philadelphia.

In Ohio, Gov. Frank Lausche, five-term Democratic incumbent, tries the Senate pasture this time against Sen. George Bender, who two years ago won the remaining portion of the late Senator Taft's term.

Illinois' Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen has Democrat Richard Stengel to contend with, and no one at this writing can be sure what effect the current state financial scandals will have on the senatorial struggle.

Fast-growing California this time pits GOP Sen. Thomas Kuchel against Democrat Richard Richards, who will be banking on the state's normal 3-2 Democratic edge in voter registrations.

Nearly all these races could be decided by paper-thin margins. To have much hope of wresting control of the Senate from the opposition, Republicans must at least hold the four of these five seats they now have. Democratic gains here would vastly complicate the GOP's task.

Where Republicans must look for real hope of increasing their Senate numbers is in such states as Kentucky, West Virginia, Nevada, Oregon and Washington.

It is here, too, that their hopes got the biggest boost when the candidate lineups finally shaped up.

NON-STOP RUN

For 1,600 hours, slightly more than 66 days, an atomic reactor in an Idaho desert test center operated at full power without stopping. Announcement of this feat by the Atomic Energy Commission affords a dramatic new vision of the potentials in atomic-powered vessels, planes and vehicles.

The reactor that completed this prodigious test without even using all of its original supply of fuel is the prototype of the one that propels the submarine Nautilus. The 1,600-hour run would have taken the Nautilus from its base at New London, Conn., around Cape Horn, across the Pacific and the Indian ocean, around the tip of Africa and back to New London, with enough power left for a side run up to the Arctic and back.

From the Navy point of view, the advantages are obvious. Submarines and surface vessels—aircraft carriers, for example—may one day be able to cruise almost indefinitely without refueling.

The Idaho reactor tests are promising in other ways as well, however. A passenger or cargo ship that can run for weeks without a shutdown is superior to one that requires refueling after each trip. The same is true in the fields of air and rail transport.

'These Days'

OVER-STRESS ON ENGINEERING

There is extraordinary excitement over the report that Soviet Russia will produce 1,200,000 trained engineers and scientists during the present decade compared with 900,000 to be "turned out" in this country. The phrase, "turned out" is particularly applicable because that precisely is what is being done in so many schools which pretend to educate men and women. These are really vocational schools rather than colleges or universities and the men who come out of them may have learned a trade but they have not been nurtured by the long line of human culture.

It does not seem to me that the difference in numbers is really important but that the intellectual quality, the capacity for personal initiative, the freedom to make mistakes without fear of reprisal, and a social environment that produces contentment and happiness are what matter. If Soviet Russia can achieve such ends better than we can, its leadership in the world will be greater than ours; if we achieve such ends by education, our accomplishments will be greater.

Professor Benjamin H. Williams of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces says in "Social Science":

"... When we consider that the future dominance in the world may be decided within the narrow fields of guided missiles and atomic bombs, the Russian power of concentration may turn out to be ominous to a nation that diffuses its activities over wide areas of products, including many luxury commodities and services."

This represents the fear psychology of those who relate themselves to military affairs. A nation that produced only guided missiles and atomic bombs, but no thinkers, no poets, no philosophers, no historians would soon be as barren as a desert. Many of the great civilizations of the world disappeared because they devoted themselves only to conquest and defense. The Uzbeks were once a great people and produced the philosopher, Avicenna, but the Uzbeks were involved in the interminable wars of Genghis Khan and his descendants and disappeared into the pages of history. Today, what is left of them, compose a minor republic of Soviet Russia, a weak and backward people held in abject slavery by the Soviet state.

Williams quotes Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission as saying:

"More than half of all Russian university graduates are in the science-mathematics fields; only one-fifth of our graduates are in those fields. Russian Ph.D.'s, or the equivalent, are three to one in favor of science and engineering; in the United States the ratio is just the reverse—nearly three doctorates in the humanities for every one in science and mathematics."

Precisely what does that prove? It only goes to show that a large number of intelligent young men and women in the United States have faith in the future of their country and their civilization and are preparing themselves to meet other problems than the manufacture of guided missiles and atom bombs. Many of those to whom Strauss refers are preparing themselves in the social sciences which are as important as engineering if this country is to survive this period which Williams calls the Age of Peril. Many are linguists, historians, musicians, artists, clergymen. Are we only to train for war?

It is too easy to make such phrases. We have passed through several ages of peril in our history. This one seems more terrible than any other only because we are now alive. Surely the people of the Soviet must have felt that they lived in an Age of Peril when Sherman was marching to the sea, devastating as he moved, destroying everything in his path. Only now, nearly a century later, is the South recovering from that frightful experience, its Age of Peril. But the South is recovering; that is the moral of the tale.

All the world was frightened by the meaningless march of the one called Alexander the Great in Europe and Iskander in Asia. But what has become of his Macedonia. It is a partitioned land of peasants. Of Alexander, little more remains than a legend, as great an intellect as ever lived. These conquerors come and go and are readily forgotten even if they leave monuments of themselves all over the place. Stalin was downgraded by his successors, but most of these so-called great men are downgraded by the course of events which measure their achievements in perspective.

BRAIN SURGERY PATIENTS

We must always keep in mind that the family's support, understanding of the problem, and ability to enter into the full treatment plan are of vital importance if best results are to be obtained from neurosurgical treatment. It is important for the doctor to point out that there will probably be a change in the occupational and social status of the patient following operation and, therefore, it is necessary for the relatives and patient, if possible, to anticipate and plan for it.

The following rules should be fulfilled before neurosurgical treatment is considered:

1. The patient is suffering from a chronic, disabling psychiatric disorder.

2. The prognosis (outlook) is poor.

3. All other forms of treatment have been ineffective.

4. The patient has a disorder which neurosurgical treatment can reasonably be expected to benefit.

Broadly speaking, two main groups of patients are eligible for neurosurgery. The first includes patients with psychiatric disorders of which the chief features are severe and dangerous behavior patterns, such as assaultiveness, combativeness, and violent, destructive behavior directed toward his surroundings or himself. For these patients, the main purpose of operation is to relieve grossly disturbed and dangerous patterns of behavior so that the patient achieves a relatively improved relationship with his surroundings.

The second group of patients are those who are unable to live comfortably within themselves and in relationship to their surroundings. In this group, the purpose of the operation is to free the patient from disturbing symptoms and permit reasonable adjustments to everyday living.

Patients with character disturbances, especially those with anti-social behavior, alcoholism, drug addiction, or sexual deviation, usually respond poorly to operation. Neurosurgical methods rarely, if ever, alter fixed personality traits and characteristics.

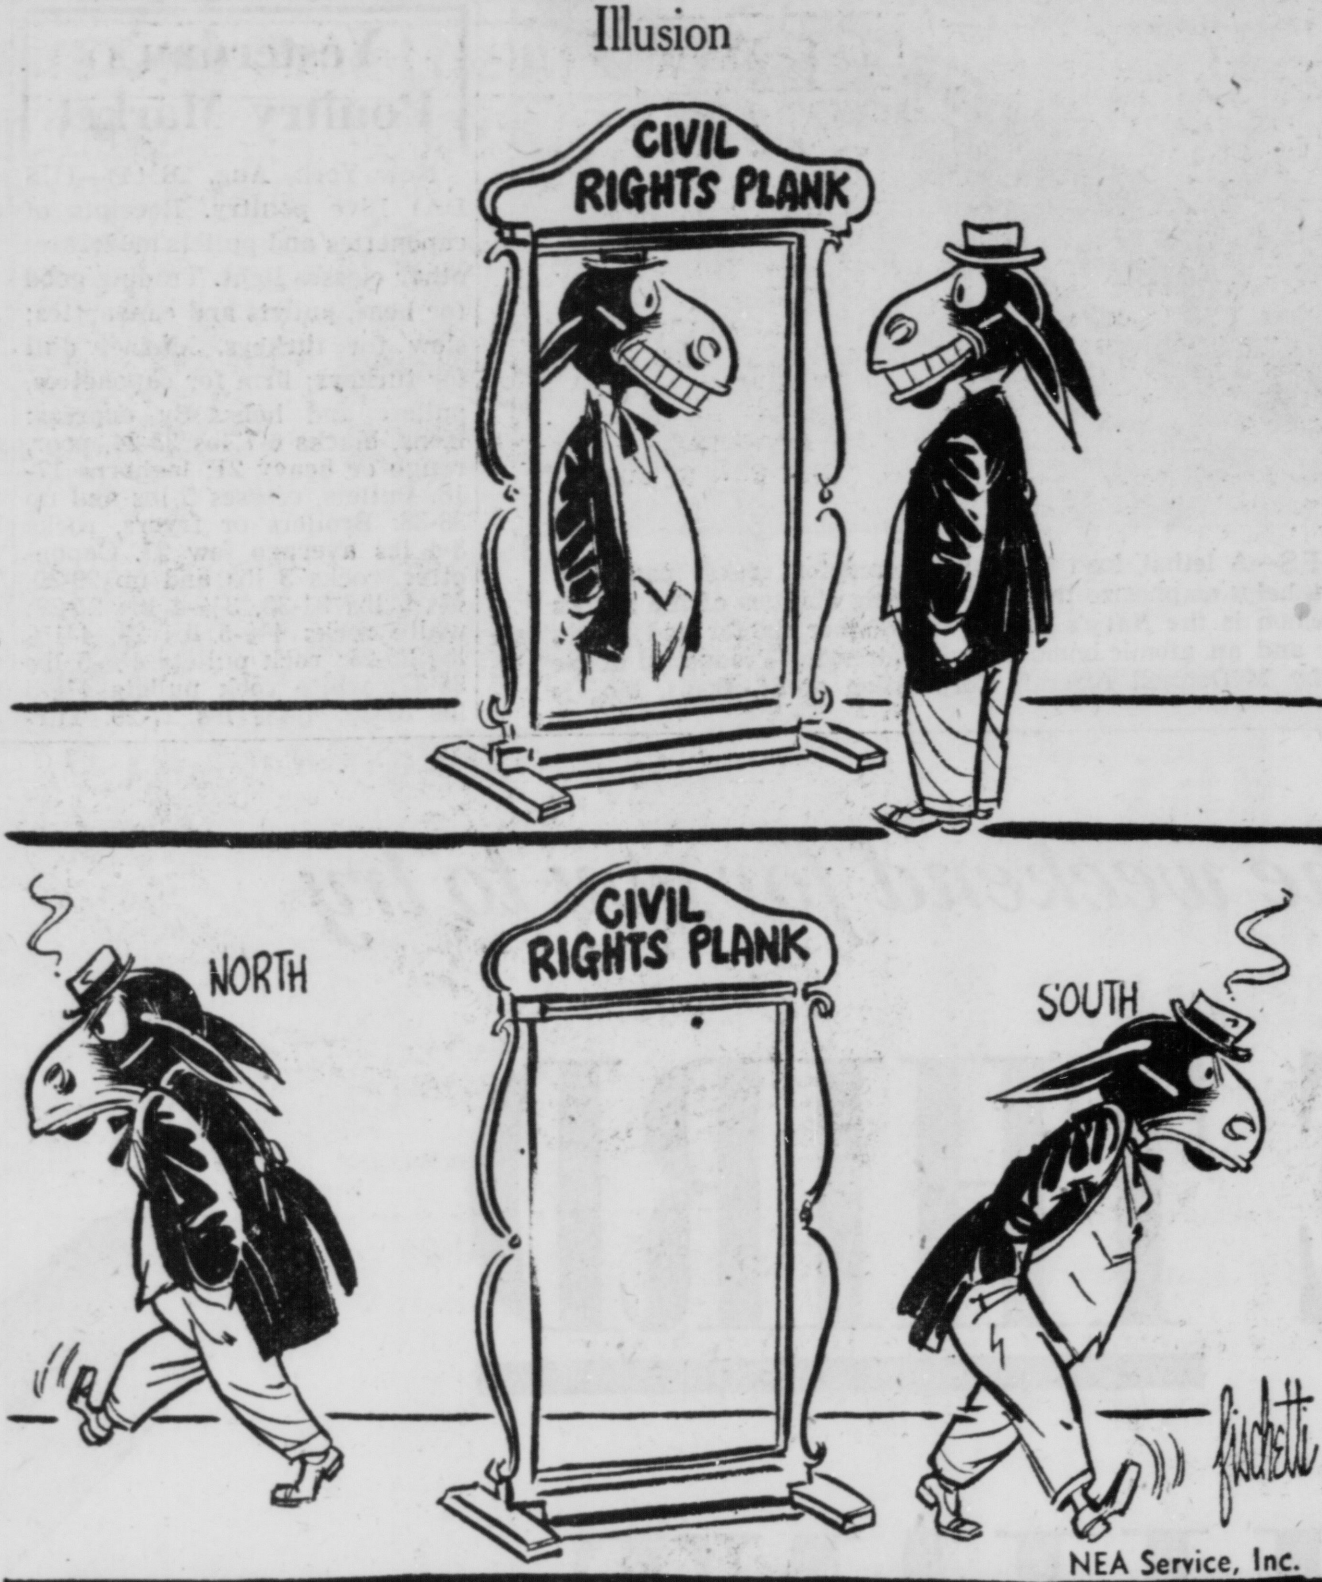

Chronic anxiety states and tension states may be improved by neurosurgery. Response of patients with hypochondriasis (overanxiety about health) has been mixed; while many patients respond favorably to neurosurgical treatment, others are little benefited.

Other patients for whom neurosurgical treatment has been advised include those with non-psychiatric disorders such as severe pain due to cancer, ulcerative colitis, and unbearable pain from any source.

The type of patient who has had extreme depression with self-blame and self-destruction tendencies do well with neurosurgery as do those with chronic obsessive compulsive states who may be benefited from neurosurgery when all other methods have failed. A chronic obsessive-compulsive state is another way of stating that a person feels he has to perform some action that is not at all necessary.

Republicans Hope for Congress

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Reporter

Republicans are hoping that, with President Eisenhower once again at the head of their ticket, they will be able to recapture control of Congress in the November elections.

Eisenhower took time at the Republican convention in San Francisco last week to try to transfer some of his popularity to GOP candidates for the Senate and the House, receiving them in his hotel suite and posing with them for pictures.

And, at an extraordinary news conference he held during the convention, he said he believed the country is best served when both the White House and the Congress are controlled by the same political party.

Then you can fix responsibility," he said.

In the 1952 elections the Republicans swept into power in the Senate and the House behind Eisenhower's smashing victory over Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. But two years later, when Eisenhower was not on the ticket, the Democrats returned to control in Congress.

IN THE SENATE the Democrats have only a squeaky margin over the Republicans. The lineup is Democrats, 49; Republicans, 47. In the House the Democrats outnumber the Republicans 231 to 201. There are three vacancies.

Control of the House usually rests in some 65 marginal seats that swing back and forth between Republicans and Democrats with the election tides.

But the situation in the Senate is different, because only one-third of its 96 members ordinarily come up for election every two years and many of these come from states that are safely Democratic or Republican.

In the Senate seats at stake in this year's election the Democrats have a built-in advantage in two respects.

First, of the 32 senators who come up for re-election, 17 are Republicans and 15 are Democrats. Thus the Democrats have less to lose.

Secondly, of the 15 Democratic seats at stake, seven are in the Democratic south, and a couple others are in border states where Republican chances usually are faint at best.

IN CONTRAST, only four of the 17 Republican seats at stake are in states where Democrats cannot entertain some hope of victory.

This is not the whole story, however, because recent events have helped to perk up Republican prospects. For one thing, to re-elect four more Senate seats—making a total of 36—will be up for election as a result of deaths and resignations.

The death of the late Sen. Barkley throws open two seats in Kentucky, instead of just one. The death of the late Sen. Kilgore has created a vacancy in West Virginia.

In addition, Sen. Thurmond of South Carolina, resigned his seat and Sen. Daniel of Texas is expected to resign if he is elected governor of his state.

Thurmond, elected two years ago as a write-in candidate, resigned to run for his seat under regular procedure in line with a pledge he made to the voters. This offers no opening for Republicans because of South Carolina's traditional Democratic allegiance.

WHILE TEXAS too is generally a Democratic state, Daniel's resignation might create a situation under the state's election law that would enable a Republican candidate to come out on top of a field of Democratic candidates. That could happen if a single Republican ran strongly while the Democratic vote was split among a number of candidates in a one-shot special election.

Other events that the Republicans hope to turn to their profit are withdrawal of former Sen. Tydings (D-Md.) from a come-back race.

Lehman, 78, announced last week he was retiring. He first entered the Senate in 1949. He also had served four terms as governor of New York and was one of the state's great vote-getters.

State Republican Chairman L. Judson Morhouse promptly said that Lehman's decision removed "whatever small doubt there may have been" that New York would elect a Republican to replace him in the Senate.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel of Kansas, chairman of the Senate GOP campaign committee, also predicted that, with Lehman's retirement, the Republicans will put up "a successful candidate" in New York.

Tydings had won nomination in Maryland to run against Sen. Butler, the Republican who unseated him, but Tydings said recently that he was forced to withdraw because of ill health.

Observers felt this was likely to strengthen Butler's chances of holding on to his Senate seat.

Schoepel said in an interview that, in addition to New York, Republicans have an "excellent opportunity" to gain Senate seats in Kentucky, West Virginia, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

"We don't expect to lose any of the 17 seats we now hold that are up for election," he said.

Independent Voters Seen Swayed by Basic Issues

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 29 — Some strange things are being written, or said, over the radio these days about national politics. They seem strange to anyone who has followed politics at the grass roots in contrast to those theorists—most of them college professors—who sit in cloistered places and rationalize modern political behavior to suit their own preconceived ideas of what the pattern has been or should be.

There is, for instance, the constant use of the word "independents." The picture usually given is of a voter who reads all that is written on politics, listens to all the campaign speeches, keeps up with national and international affairs every day and finally renders a profound judgment at the polls as if he were some sort of judge handing down a decision from the bench.

THERE ARE TENS of millions of independents and they are not a minority of the electorate by any means. There are probably in the northern states more independents than there are "non-independents." The latter term is meant those who vote regularly for the candidates of one political party or the other.

For the true definition of an "independent" is a person capable of voting in secret for candidates who express his own ideas regardless of how some political organization has told him or urged him to vote. In Britain they call it a "switch" when persons who voted for one party in a previous election shift to the other party. An "independent" really is one who in the past has switched, or is ready now to go from one party to the other.

The fact, however, that a voter finds in one party for a considerable period of time an expression of his basic convictions on public affairs doesn't make him less of an "independent" than one who shifts from time to time. Very often there is a switch at the state or local level, and not at the national level, or vice versa.

THIS WRITER, for example, considers himself an independent because he has voted for the Democratic candidates for governor and for Congress in Virginia in the last ten years, but out of the last eleven nominees for the Presidency has preferred Democrats in five elections and Republicans in the other six.

The "switch" in voting in America—the rise in the use of the term "independent"—really dates from the time that several states began to use the split ballot. Up to that time a voter had to vote the straight ticket for all candidates in one party or the other—he had little chance to choose. The introduction of voting machines in many cities has helped materially to encourage split-balling or switch-voting. In the rural districts the use of the separate ballot for state and national offices and, indeed, for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency as differentiated from candidates for Congress, has done more than anything else to foster the "switch" idea. WHAT PROBABLY accounts for the greater preponderance of "independents" or "switch" voting today over those who vote straight tickets all along the line is the numerical increase in the voting population itself. Perhaps the biggest single factor in this was woman suffrage, which was introduced in a national election for the first time in the Harding-Cox campaign of 1920. In that year, despite the huge increase in the number of potential voters, only 44 per cent of those eligible actually participated at the polls in contrast to 62.7 per cent in the 1952 Presidential election. Yet Harding won by the biggest landslide of electoral votes ever recorded up to that time.

It is also to be noted that, with the growth in the electorate, political organizations as such have lost much of their influence and power. This is because the total number of voters, except in the smaller cities, has become too unwieldy to reach by the usual methods of organization. Some intensive and extensive efforts through precinct workers still are made, but the total number of voters really convinced by personal canvass of some kind—including the telephone—is, on the whole, small.

What then influences the voter? The other evening this writer heard a so-called expert interviewed on the radio who said that in the present campaign personalities would count for more than issues—in fact, he thought issues would not be of much importance.

To any one who has studied many campaigns, this is a surprising statement. For very few voters, relatively speaking, get to know the candidates or their personal attitudes.

Cox was much the better man in 1920. He made a coast-to-coast campaign while Harding spoke from his front porch in Ohio and made less than a half dozen speeches away from his home. John W. Davis was a better man than Coolidge in 1924. Again and again the more capable man or the more colorful personality—as, for example, William Jennings Bryan versus William Howard Taft in 1908—made a better campaign, but lost.

ISSUES ARE paramount and they have to be down-to-earth or elemental issues to affect 60,000,000 voters. The voters get the "feel" of things and often rationalize their conclusions from a pocketbook standpoint—whether times are good or bad. They are affected also by emotional issues such as Communism in government, or crookedness in high places, or the question of peace and war.

Political trends are best gathered in the homes in town and country, and any one who has himself made a personal canvass of individual sentiment in different sections of the country, in campaign after campaign, will find that basic issues—affirmative of negative—rather than personalities constitute the major influence in swinging elections.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

San Francisco, Aug. 28—When I walked into the grand new headquarters of Harry Lundeburg's Seafarers' International Union of North America, the union which stopped at the beachhead the Communist invasion of the Pacific coast, one of the brothers observed my uncertainty and bawled, "What do you want," obviously a bosun.

"Where is Lundeburg?" I yelled back. "Down there," he said, a little less belligerent.

Maybe I scared the bum. I went through a door and Popeye got up from his desk. "Where are your bodyguards?" he asked. I said: "They are all over the place. You are surrounded so don't make a false move!" I noticed his charter from the A. F. of L., on a wall, signed by George Browne, among other historic racketeers. Browne was the president of the movie and theatrical racket who went to prison with Willie Bioff and seven other Chicago martyrs to the cause of labor.

I said this was a swell plant. Whitey Hawk, the secretary of the International, said yes, and it did not belong to the international, either. It belonged to the regional subsidiary, called the Sailors' Union of the Pacific. Cost a million and a half. I asked how many stories it had. "Dam if I know," said Popeye. "I never counted." I later estimated it at about seven stories. It has a hiring hall, an auditorium where esthetic sailors, in from the cruel sea, may enact Scandinavian sagas with hemp wigs tickling their ears, a school for sea-struck American kids from the furrows and a bar with beautiful San Francisco murals on glass.

"I told the artist I wouldn't pay him until he got all through," Popeye said. "If he got gassed up on me, I might never get the pictures finished. Them artists are as bad as sailors."

There is also a gym, with a boxing ring hogging most of the space. Harry said, "it is a good way to settle a beef instead of in the street or in some joint. This way nobody can pull a knife or give a guy number 12." He glanced at his shoe. "We have a lot of young, ath-

Thursday Meeting Scheduled for Bonds on IsraelJOSEPH HONIG

A meeting has been announced for Thursday to open the 1956 Kingston campaign to promote sale of bonds for the State of Israel by Joseph Honig, chairman of the local resources, agriculture and the general security of the State of Israel.

He said the meeting is to be held at the home of Joseph Levine, 105 Mountain View avenue, starting at 8 p. m. and stressed that "The democratic society now being built in Israel merits the assistance of our friends in this community."

Mr. Honig pointed to the critical situation in the Middle East with the constant threat to the new state posed by the menace of the Nasser movement and the unyielding attitude of the Arab leaders.

Over 800,000 Americans have purchased Israel bonds in the past, Mr. Honig said, and their action has been of tremendous assistance to the development of industry, natural resources, agriculture and the general security of the State of Israel.

"Israel bonds represent an excellent investment financially and morally," he said, "and I know that our community has come to realize this."

Tomorrow night's meeting will be addressed by a native of Israel, who will answer inquiries about current events there, Chairman Honig said.

All-Male Jury Picked For Brink's Robbery

Boston, Aug. 29 (AP)—An all-male jury was finally seated today in the 18th day of the Brink's $1,218,000 robbery trial after 1,621 veniremen had been examined since Aug. 7.

As selection of the jury neared completion, one previously-selected juror was excused on his plea that he had become "emotionally upset." And word was received that a prosecution witness, Charles J. Margiotti, a former Pennsylvania attorney general, had died in Pennsylvania.

Fourteen jurors will hear evidence but only 12 will deliberate and return a verdict. Two will serve as alternates, ready to fill in should a juror become incapacitated before the trial ends.

Witness Margiotti had been approached by two of the men charged with the Brink's robbery to represent them when they were arrested on a gun carrying charge several months after the Jan. 17, 1955 Brink's robbery.

Smart Animals

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Animals in theatrical performances must know how to act, says C. Y. Jones, who contracted to provide 50 head of horses and oxen for a "California story" pageant. Jones, Hollywood animal agent, said that one of his horses once fell down on the stake in Hollywood bowl during the pageant production. "He just laid there," he said, "didn't thrash around and mess things up. That's what I mean, stage animals have to know how to act."

EISENHOWERS LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower chats with Mrs. John McCone as his wife kisses John McCone at the Naval Air Station in Monterey, Calif., before leaving for Washington Aug. 28. BARK IS WORSE THAN THEIR BIKE—Cycling members of West Berlin's police force are putting on the dog. Specially constructed pillion seats on bicycles make a fine perch for the canine cops, as they ride out to take part in training exercises. Cops put on their annual show in the Olympic stadium to impress Berliners with their skill, efficiency and discipline.

Nixon Feels Sure U. S. Workers Will Back GOP Ticket

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said today he is "confident" American workers will support the Eisenhower administration in the Nov. 6 election despite opposition by the AFL-CIO leadership.

Nixon issued a statement commenting on yesterday's decision by the big labor organization's executive council to recommend that the AFL-CIO's 15 million members support the Democratic presidential ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

"WE RECOGNIZE the right of leaders of the AFL-CIO to take a personal stand on candidates and issues in the coming election," Nixon said. "We can all be glad that we live in a democracy where the heads of any organization can freely express their views on political questions."

"At the same time," he said, "I am sure that by this action the leaders of organized labor do not intend to try to bind their members or dictate to them how they should think and vote."

"On that basis, this administration is proud to stand on its record. It has been indeed gratifying to note that a number of labor leaders have declared, both in public and in private, that the American workers has never had it so good. Wages have never been higher, nor have jobs been more plentiful. There have been fewer hours lost in strikes than in any comparable period of history."

"WE ARE CONFIDENT that when American workers look at this record they will vote to continue in office the administration that has done more for their interests than any administration in history. They will not want to go back to the strike-ridden days of the 1940s or to the rubber dollar that wiped away increases as fast as they got them."

Turtle Trapping

Hardin, Ill. (AP)—Turtle trapper Harley Johnson has created a going business. In one week he trapped and dressed 45 turtles, and local fanciers store the meat in deep freezers. Johnson has developed a sure-fire system for catching turtles. He makes a trap of poultry netting from two to four feet in height and with a shallow, wide throat. The traps are set at the edge of the sloughs and ponds and are submerged to about two-thirds of their height, leaving part of the trap out of the water so the turtles can get air. He baits the traps with the carcasses of fresh fish which have been flayed for boning.

Ike Notes Firm U. S. Support of Suez Canal Plan

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Eisenhower today declared firm U. S. support of the western plan for settlement of the Suez Canal crisis, and urged its backing by every country which believes in "international justice and conciliation."

The President expressed pleasure at Egyptian Nasser's decision to meet with a five-nation committee and to hear the proposal for international control of the Suez waterway.

Eisenhower's statement, issued after a long conference between the President and Secretary of State Dulles, was read to newsmen by Dulles.

Before he began reading, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President had asked him to express publicly his appreciation to Dulles for "the fine and wonderful job" Dulles did at the 22-nation London conference.

The Presidential statement asserted Eisenhower's belief that it was of "great significance" that 18 of the 22 countries which attended the London conference had agreed upon the conditions contained in the Western plan. The countries represent 95 per cent of shipping traffic through the Suez, he said.

Parts of State ...

ington, Mass., for a time.
Hudson firemen were called out when a falling wire set a power pole afire. At the height of the storm, a four-car accident, not serious, added to the confusion.

About 80 telephones in Hudson and Claverack were out of service for a time.

All games in the class A Eastern League were washed out. New York and Pennsylvania teams are in that circuit.

In Syracuse, a construction worker suffered severe electrical shock while working on a power pole.

Ernest Gulneck, 49, who was repairing a downed power line, was lowered from the pole by workmen. Power throughout the residential area in which Gulneck was working was disrupted for several hours.

Elephant Trouble

Vanceburg, Ky. (AP)—Those good old days when an elephant could do the job are gone. A tractor-trailer truck of a circus caravan got stuck in a ditch near here. Motorists, their way blocked by the truck, watched expectantly as a circus elephant was paraded to the scene. The pachyderm huffed and puffed but couldn't budge the truck. Finally, a couple of wreckers arrived to do the job.

Second Body Found

Washington, Aug. 29 (AP)—The navy today announced recovery of the second body of a crewman of the patrol plane which was shot down off the China coast last Thursday.

The first body was found last Friday in an area about 90 miles southeast of Shanghai and near the eastern fringe of the islands which flank the South China coast.

A brief message from the 7th Fleet, charged with search operations in the area, said that the body of the second crew member was found by a U. S. destroyer in the general vicinity

RETREAD CANDIDATES

Now that Adlai Stevenson is the Democratic candidate, will he do better this year than in 1952?

It has been 116 years since a candidate for President, defeated in his first try, was elected in his second attempt. This was William Henry Harrison, who was elected in 1840, after being defeated in 1836. Before him, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, John Quincy Adams, and Andrew Jackson were elected after having been defeated. But elections were made differently in those early days.

MR. HUTTON

Thomas Pinckney was a candidate four times; Henry Clay three times; Eugene Debs four times; and Norman Thomas five times, but none was ever a winner.

Cleveland was elected in 1892, after being defeated in 1888, but had won in his first race in 1884.

The last major retread candidate was Tom Dewey, who got 189 electoral votes in 1948, in his second attempt, after losing in 1944, with only 99 votes.

Bryan did better in his third race than in his second, but not so well as in his first, in 1896.

If the history of 116 years repeats, Stevenson will not win, but may do better than in 1952. Henry Clay did better in his third race than in either of his first two.

The record, neighbor, shows that a defeat does not necessarily discredit a candidate. It may advertise him with the result that he does better in his second race.

The Mature Parent

Parental Overprotection
Often Masks Hate and Fear

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When the therapist in the child guidance clinic met Gretel's parents, he thought her mother a pleasant woman who seemed very fond of the child. But her father was frankly angry at the child's ingratitude for all the things her mother did for her.

Talking with Gretel, the therapist learned that her mother was always asking questions like "Have you brushed your teeth? Let's see behind your ears. Are all your books in your briefcase? What marks did you get today? What's your lesson for tomorrow? Let's see if you know it

Talking with the mother, he learned that actually she was Gretel's stepmother. In tears, the woman told him that she and Gretel's father had decided against any children of their own to spare the child family jealousy. But she did not say, "I hate Gretel for blocking my own maternity—and my oversolicitude for her is my defense against knowledge of this hate." But this was the truth. Gretel's case is discussed in a new book, "Treatment of the Child in Emotional Conflict," by Dr. Hyman S. Lippman, I have reported it for two reasons. First, it clearly exposes the hate that so often motivates the oversolicitous parent's show of love. Second in the questions with which Gretel's mother pursued her, we can detect the aim of hate.

Re-read them. Then in those innocent-sounding queries, note the hidden, unrelenting insistence on Gretel's helplessness.

The child's helplessness is always the aim of the overprotective parent.

Gretel's mother asked typically overprotective questions. Always such questions appear to want to shield the child against hurt by germs, school failure, summer camping, the socially unacceptable friend. But what they actually do is to insist that any independent adventure can have only one end—disaster.

Whether the adventure is climbing a tree or marrying the girl he wants, the child must be separated from it lest it reveal to him his own powers. Just as the spider's poison paralyze the fly it intends to eat, so the hate behind overprotection stings the child into physical and moral paralysis.

The overprotective parent's problem is his own sense of helplessness. Gretel's mother pursued her with suggestions of helplessness because disaster was her own expectation. Otherwise, it could never have occurred to her to fear her own babies as disasters to another child.

Novel Rabbit Hutch

Harrisburg, Pa. (P)—The Pennsylvania Game Commission reports it has found at least one way to put on old home to new uses. Donald G. Gay, Susquehanna county game protector, reported coming upon a nest of young rabbits turned out of their home by a passing plow. He secured an old snapping turtle shell, filled it with chaff and replaced the bunnies in their new hard-shell home. Mrs. Rabbit cooperated. Gay reported. She stayed with her young until they were old enough to fend for themselves.

In a Lather

Mount Sterling, Ky. (P)—To the motorist, Montgomery County Jailor E. H. Swope looked like a madman on the loose. White foam fell from the jailer's chin as he hopped the passing car to chase two fleeing prisoners. The escape occurred while the jailer was shaving and he went after them in a real lather. He caught 'em too.

Good bridge players always look for a way to safeguard an excellent contract. There is, however, such a thing as playing a hand too safe.

In today's hand, for example, East won the first trick with the jack of hearts and continued with two more top hearts. South naturally planned to ruff the third round of hearts, but he made the mistake of ruffing with the jack of trumps, on the mistaken assumption that this was a safe play.

South discovered his error when he led a trump at the fourth trick. West had all of the missing trumps, and he was now sure to get two tricks with them. This was, of course, enough to set the contract.

The true safety play was to ruff the third round of hearts with the three of spades. West could overruff, to be sure, but then South could easily draw the rest of West's trumps with his own three high cards and dummy's king. West would get his one trump trick early or late, as he pleased.

South did not have to look at an opponent's hand to see that a ruff with the three of spades would protect him against all dangers. If West could not overruff, there was no advantage in ruffing with the jack. If West could overruff, only four trumps would remain out. South could easily pick up those four trumps with his own remaining high cards and with dummy's king.

Good Memory

Denver, Colo. (AP)—A witness at a federal income tax evasion trial had no trouble recalling a $470 payment he said he made as a slot machine payoff to the defendant. He had tucked the money in the watch pocket of a pair of trousers, then absent-mindedly sent the pants to the cleaners. When they came back the $470 was gone and he had to dig up another payment of same amount.

Life-Saving Business

Wakefield, Mass. (P)—Saving lives seems to be a Macauliffe family trait. Recently Donald Macauliffe, 35, won a medal from the Massachusetts Humane Society for rescuing a youngster from drowning. His grandfather Timothy J. and his father Dr. Philip L. teamed in 1925 to save a man from drowning. They too won society awards. His brother, Philip Jr., 26, was awarded the society's medal in 1948 for the rescue of a man who fell through thin ice. Two years ago he saved two women from possible drowning in the Potomac river.

Dry Hiding

Reading, Pa. (P)—Two AWOL soldiers from Fort Bragg, N. C., were found in a most unlikely place—the beer storage vaults of a Reading brewery. It wasn't as festive a sojourn for the two evaders as might be expected. The brewery has been abandoned for more than 15 years.

New Tips Given On Poison Ivy by Woman Scientist

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

Storrs, Conn., Aug. 29 (P)—Some new tips on unusual poison ivy hazards were given today by a famous woman plant scientist. Dr. Harriet Creighton, professor of botany at Wellesley College and president of the American Botanical Society, showed up at a scientific meeting here sporting ivy poisoning of both arms.

She said she was poisoned while playing golf. Her arms had rubbed against a golf bag which had come in contact with "dried-up, chopped-up ivy leaves that had been mowed from the 'rough' and kicked out into the fairway by a rotary lawnmower."

In an interview at the annual convention of the American Institute of Biological Sciences, she told about these other possibilities of ivy poisoning in strange ways:

1. From smoke given off by backyard burning of brush and leaves that might contain poison ivy. She said the ivy oil could be carried off in the smoke and "give ivy poisoning to someone at a considerable distance away."

2. From prematurely handling poison ivy vines that have been killed with new chemical weed-killers, especially designed for attacking poison ivy. She says the poisonous ivy oil can remain a hazard "for quite a few months" after a vine treatment.

3. Walking through a plowed-up field that may have contained poison ivy. It can get in one's shoes in the form of dust, she said.

"The cop had the last word. The toll, all $14.20, was rung up on the spot."

Soft Touch

Aberdeen, Idaho (P)—The honey toads of the Southeastern Idaho desert are in for a soft touch as long as Chris and Mark Wride of Aberdeen are around. The youngsters caught one near their home and fixed up a cage for it. They claim it's the only toad in existence with a furnished home complete with electric lights.

Big Talk

Roseville, Calif. (P)—The man deposited $1.10 for a call to Oakland, Calif., but talked on and on. The telephone operator, worried about a fast get-away, asked a policeman to keep an eye on the phone booth.

New Combined Circus
Stranded in Jersey

Macon, Ga., Aug. 29 (AP) — A new three ring circus formed with equipment and animals from the bankrupt King Bros. Circus of Macon is now stranded in New Jersey.

Paul M. Conaway, attorney for the new Esma Maley Combined Circus Inc., reported last night that the outlook for future operations appeared "very dim."

He said the show was at Penn's

Grove, N. J., and would remain there until other plans could be made.

Two Macon businessmen, whose names were not revealed, and Mrs. Esma Maley, wife of Arnold Maley, former manager of the King Circus, formed the new circus early this month with authorized capital of $25,000.

Conaway said the show opened at Stroudsburg, Pa., Aug. 18 with a new $10,000 tent and a capacity audience. However "what looked like a remarkable rejuvenation" quickly hit a snag when the show was unable to keep future engagements.

He quoted circus backers as saying that lack of help and department heads made it impossible for the circus to show at Burlington, N. J. In the following days the circus arrived too late or was incomplete for performances at Wesville, Hammon and Penn's Grove, all in New Jersey.

ODYSSEY ODDITY—This strange contraption, above, shown in Rustington, England, has transported Canadian adventurer Bobby Macarthy some 71,000 miles. Hardly recognizable under all the gadgets is the basic unit—a bicycle. Named the "Heath Robinson," an English cartoonist famed for drawing of weird contraptions, the whole affair is 23 feet long, and weighs approximately half a ton. Macarthy, from Port Huron, Ontario, has traveled in North America, Europe and Australia in the past 10 years. He has been hospitalized 39 times for exhaustion. The trailer serves as bedroom and kitchen.

Search 14 States
To Check Typhoid

Atlanta, Aug. 29 (AP)—The U. S. Public Health Service is conducting a 14-state search for some 500 persons who may have been exposed to typhoid fever while attending a Missouri church camp meeting.

The outbreak already has claimed one life in Louisiana and a 20-year-old Missouri woman died as a suspected typhoid case.

Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir, chief epidemiologist at the public health service's communicable disease center in Atlanta, said yesterday that health officials wanted to reach and warn all potential victims so they can seek medical advice and effective treatment if the disease develops.

Dr. William Neil, chief of the health service's epidemic intelligence service, reported from Kansas City, Kan., that there were at least four known and six suspected cases among families who attended a Church of God camp meeting at Monarch Springs, Mo., July 20-29.

He said the meeting was attended by 54 families from Oklahoma, 37 from Missouri, 20 from Kansas, 14 from California, 10 from Louisiana, 5 from Oregon and 1 or 2 each from Arkansas, Tennessee, Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Alabama and Indiana.

Health officials said the source of the infection had not been determined.

Horses to Cut
Sleeping Sickness

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—The New York State Racing Commission has issued orders prohibiting the shipment of race horses to this state from anywhere in New England because of an outbreak of sleeping sickness there.

Ashley T. Cole, commission chairman, said yesterday that a case of sleeping sickness had been reported in Andover, Mass.,

about 10 miles from Rockingham Park race track.

He said there also were reports of death of horses outside an area on which an embargo was established Aug. 23.

Requirements for admittance to New York tracks are:

1. Certificate of vaccination against equine encephalomyelitis, dated not less than 21-days prior to shipment.
2. Health certificates issued on the date of shipping.
3. Evidence that the van in which the horse was transported had been thoroughly fogged prior to departure for New York.

Historical Society Holds Meeting In Marbletown

Members of the Ulster County Historical Society gathered at headquarters in Beaver House, Marbletown Saturday, Aug. 25 at 3 p. m. to participate in a program recalling the Mary Powell. This boat, known and loved by all who lived along the Hudson River and noted for its beauty, performance and punctuality, had its personal place in the lives of many members.

Preceding the program Miss Louise Heron of Stone Ridge, chairman of the newly organized Archives Committee, told of the work being done in listing for file the documents owned by the Society and of their plans to catalogue the books in the Beaver House Library. She is assisted in her work by Miss Agnes Scott Smith of Kingston. Miss Heron asked for volunteers to assist in the card cataloging.

Kenneth Hasbrouck of New Paltz, vice-president of the Society and chairman of the Historical Research Committee reported on their work.

This committee is comprised of Mrs. Andrew D. Lent, Highland; Leon Smith, William Heidegger, New Paltz; Miss Katherine Hasbrouck, Stone Ridge; Miss Marie K. Pidgeon of New York and Saugerties. They have been active in writing articles and compiling genealogical records and Church records. Mr. Hasbrouck pointed out the imperative need that such records be compiled and edited in order that they may not be lost.

Many letters requesting general information on genealogical or historical data have been received. Mr. Hasbrouck added. Among these was a request for information on the exhuming of the Mastodon, near New Paltz.

During the afternoon members made a tour of the house. Two of its rooms had been painted and rearranged. This is a step toward planned use of available space. The upper hall will eventually be used as a small art gallery. Two fine portraits by the younger Vanderlyn, given to the Society by Mrs. E. Crane Chadbourne of Stone Ridge, Society Trustee, have already been placed there.

Mrs. Myron Teller of Kingston was in charge of the tea. She was assisted by Mrs. Charlotte Peck, Mrs. Harry Halverson, Mrs. John B. Sterley all of Kingston. Mrs. Jean Jeanneney of New Paltz, members of the entertainment committee. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Harold Loughran, Kingston, and Mrs. Charles Walden, Stone Ridge.

Jansen H. Preston of Katsbaan, Saugerties is president of the Society and Harry Rigby of Kingston is chairman of membership.

LATE WEDDING PRESENT

"Several months ago my husband and I were invited to the wedding of mutual friends. Because of illness we were unable to go. The gift that we had bought for the couple arrived too late to be sent before the wedding and so we kept it here thinking that we would go to see them when they returned from their honeymoon and bring them the present. One evening while visiting friends, we met this couple, who had just returned from their wedding trip, and we explained about the gift. Whereupon they invited us to come to see their new house, saying that they would call us just as soon as several pieces of furniture had arrived. However, we still have not heard from them and we still have the present. We are at a loss as to the best way of delivering our lovely gift. To just leave it at the house and "run" would seem odd, but to call and say we are coming over would seem as though we were pushing, would it not? What do you suggest we do?"

All you have to do is go and pay them a visit in the evening or whatever time they pay visits in your community. If they are in hand them the present, and if they aren't, leave it.

Missing Person

Memphis (P)—The head of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Miss Sue Lackey, still wonders about the fellow whose letter of inquiry gave a Los Angeles jail as home address. The bureau's reply was returned after shuttling through several departments at the jail. It was stamped: "Trusty. Not in jail. Escaped."

HIS SOLE HOBBY—What does a shoemaker do in his spare time? Joseph Galluze, of Pittsburgh, Pa., makes shoes. He fashions miniatures, like those above, from one to three inches long, covering every style found in normal use from pumps to work shoes. So far, Galluze has accumulated more than 50, each made from calf leather and each requiring three to four hours of tedious work.

'King of Hearts'
At Playhouse

Woodstock, August 29—"King of Hearts" the gay and light-hearted comedy by Jean Kerr and Eleanor Brooke, brings to a close what has been on the whole a highly entertaining season at the Woodstock Playhouse. The story deals with the antics of an egotistical cartoonist who plans to marry his secretary and depart for Europe. His plans go astray when he hires a ghost cartoonist to carry on his strip and the resulting complications are hilarious.

A fine performance was given by Woodstock's own young actor, Daniel Perlman as Mike the delivery boy. Danny has been seen several times previously in Playhouse productions. John Devine is excellent as Francis X. Dignan the assistant to the cartoonist, as is Raymond Duke as Norman Taylor, the young menace about the house.

The audience had the treat of seeing the Playhouse director Cyril Simon appear for the first time this season as the policeman.

For an opening night the production was exceptionally well done.

Maverick Sunday Concert

For the last program of the season, on September 2, the Maverick Sunday Afternoon Concerts will present Stanley Drucker, clarinet, David Sackson, violin, and Joseph Wolman, piano, in original compositions for this unusual combination of instruments.

Stanley Drucker, first clarinetist of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, appears for the first time at the Maverick. He was first clarinetist with the Indianapolis Symphony at the age of 16 and with the Buffalo Philharmonic at the age of 18, and is now in his eighth season with the New York Philharmonic. He has been guest artist with well-known string quartets, among them the Knoll Quartet, and has recorded many contemporary chamber music compositions. Violinist David Sackson, who for seven years was a member of the Gordon String Quartet, organized the Charleston Symphony Orchestra and was its musical director from 1940 to 1942. He has done a great deal of research in the chamber music of Spain and Romania, and was acclaimed earlier this season for his playing of Romanian music in the Harmony Hill Series. Joseph Wolman whose fine playing has made him a favorite at the Maverick for many years, has been co-featured with many of the country's outstanding artists.

The program for this concert will feature works by Bach, Mozart, Milhaud and Bartok. Bartok's "Contrasts" for violin and piano which closed the program has been said to be one of the great creative achievements in the music of our century.

Manuel Gayol, Classical Guitarist, Returns

By popular request, the guitarist Manuel Gayol will give a second recital this season at the Polari Gallery, Parnassus Square, on Saturday evening, September 1, at 9 p. m.

Mr. Gayol's earlier concert revealed him as a unique artist of great sensitivity and musicianship. Again he will present a program of original compositions for the classical guitar by 18th and 19th and 20th century composers.

Turnau Opera Players

For their last two performances of the season, the Turnau Opera Players will present La Boheme on Friday evening, Aug. 31, and Così fan tutte on Saturday, Sept. 1, in the Brydcliffe Theater.

These farewell concerts would be sad indeed if Woodstock music lovers did not have the promise of a return of the superb opera group next season.

Juana Manorska
Dance Recital

On Thursday evening, Aug. 30, Juana Manorska will give a dance recital in the Byrdcliffe Theater. She was a student of Mary Wigman and Harold Kreutzberg, and toured most European cities before she came to this country ten years ago. Here she was drawn to the field of primitive dancing which she studied with Katherine Dunham. Later she studied in the Eileen O'Connor Academy of Ballet Perfection. Out of all these various schools, Juana Manorska has formed her own style of dancing. In her program she will interpret a variety of themes taken from many fields of human experience. All of these dances which have been created during the past year will be part of a program which Juana Manorska expects to present in Europe early next year.

Case Adjourned
On Trade Prices

Arguments in a motion for a temporary injunction against the United Cut Rate Pharmacy, 324 Wall street, restraining the local store from alleged sale of its products below fair trade prices, was adjourned Tuesday in United States District Court, Southern District of New York.

The case was adjourned at request of United Cut Rate to 10 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 4.

The action has been instituted by the Eli Lilly Co. of Indianapolis, Ind., which charges that United Cut Rate allegedly ignored repeated requests and warnings to desist from selling its goods below prices fixed and established by it.

Attorney Arthur B. Ewig of Kingston represents the pharmaceutical company. United Cut Rate is represented by Attorney Harry Gold of Kingston.

It is charged in the complaint that United Cut Rate had been violating the Feld-Crawford Act of the State of New York in selling below the company's fixed prices.

Egypt to Get Ship

Southampton, England, Aug. 29 (AP)—Britain prepared today to hand over to Egypt a former British destroyer even though it is disputing Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal. The destroyer is the former Zenith, renamed El Fateh. British sailors took her on her final trials this morning. She will be turned over formally to Egypt tomorrow. Another former British destroyer, now at Al Quaher, sailed from Portsmouth 20 miles east of Southampton Friday.

City Boy

Knoxville, Tenn. (AP)—There was a faint suspicion that the policeman who wrote this report on a missing cow didn't grow up on a farm: "The cow is yellow, about six or seven years old, weighs about 700 pounds and has a missing milk spout."

Democrats Hope
To Double Roll
In Hurley Town

The Town of Hurley Democratic Club, which now has 65 members, expects to double that number by its next meeting Sept. 11. President John J. Carroll said today.

Mr. Carroll, who presided at the meeting of the club Tuesday night at the Hurley Firehall, said that from all reports the people of the township were welcoming the new club, feeling that it would work for the best interests of the Town of Hurley.

The club has as its main object, he said, the return of the two-party system of government to the Town of Hurley.

Organizational details were completed Tuesday night with the appointment of committees.

Harry Waage was appointed chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws. Mrs. Walter Pilz chairman of the social and entertainment committee and Andrew Adelman chairman of the platform committee.

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 11, at the firehall.

New Vow of Violence

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 29 (AP)—The first bombings in this British colony in 12 days today emphasized a new vow of violence from EOKA extremists. Two bombs exploded harmlessly last night and early this morning outside the homes of a British army sergeant and a British major in Larnaca and Nicosia. The explosions shattered the island's uneasy calm which had prevailed during a "suspension of operations" proclaimed by EOKA, the underground fighting arm of the Greek Cypriot movement demanding union with Greece.

Child, Woman Are Hurt in Local Traffic Mishap

A child suffered a head injury and a woman was reported hurt in a two-car collision at Albany avenue and East St. James street last night.

Darlene Dorothy Ware, 5, of Hinsdale street, suffered a bump on the forehead and was treated by a doctor, police said, and Ruth Stone Gorden, of 19 Hone street, reported injuries of the left arm, right knee and stomach, and was to be treated by a doctor.

Officers James Burns and Julius Glassman reported at 6:58 p. m., that a sedan, owned by Morris Stone, of 19 Hone street, and driven by Ruth Stone Gorden, was headed north on Albany avenue.

A sedan, owned and driven by Edward Ware, of 56 Hinsdale street, headed west on Albany avenue, was crossing into East St. James street, the officers said.

A small tree on a property at 38½ St. James street, owned by Mrs. Nora Cuff, of Mt. Kisco, was struck and bent by the Stone car, the report said. Both cars were towed from the scene. An ambulance was called, but was not used.

Reds Release Ship

Stockholm, Aug. 29 (AP)—A Russian patrol boat seized a Swedish sailing ship nine miles off the Soviet Baltic coast today but released it less than five hours later. The three-masted schooner Flying Clipper radioed high winds in the Baltic had blown her off course and to a point within the 12-mile limit Russia fixes as her territorial boundary. The foreign office earlier had announced the Flying Clipper had been seized off the Swedish island of Gotska Sanden. This would have placed it from 80 to 100 miles off the Soviet coast.

Impatience Grows

concentrating on a peaceful settlement of the canal issue. Egypt charged that two secretaries in the British embassy in Cairo—Visa Officer James Gove and Commercial Attache John Flux—were the "contacts" for two British civilians arrested early this week on espionage charges.

The British Foreign Office denied the charges but said it had no choice but to recall the two diplomats. Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, British ambassador in Cairo, immediately made a strong protest.

Sharp retaliatory action was expected from Britain. Prime Minister Eden met with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. The general expectation was that Britain would kick out two Egyptian diplomats in retaliation.

Menzies' committee was named to present to Nasser the majority proposal of the recent London conference. The Western-sponsored plan, supported by 18 of the 22 nations at the meeting, calls for an international board including Egypt to control and operate the canal. It would be linked with the United Nations.

EGYPT REFUSED to attend the parley, and Nasser's first reply to Menzies made clear his agreement to hear the five-nation group did not commit Egypt to any of its proposals.

Nasser has stoutly defended Egypt's claim to sole control of the Suez waterway, which he took over suddenly on July 26 from the Suez Canal Co., owned by the British government and French investors. Company personnel are continuing to operate the canal under Egyptian direction.

Directors of the canal company met in Paris last night and announced they might advise the company's non-Egyptian staff in the Canal Zone to quit their jobs if Nasser rejects international control of the waterway. With less than a third of the canal's pilot's being Egyptians, this would threaten a breakdown in traffic through the waterway.

Decatur, Miss., Aug. 29 (P)—Newton county Sheriff H. C. Valentine said today he charged two white brothers with murder in the shotgun slaying of a 54-year old Union, Miss., Negro Aug. 22. Valentine identified the white men as Ed Phillips, 36, and R. J. Phillips, about 50, both of Duffee. He said they were in Newton county jail under $5,000 bond. The sheriff identified the dead man as Arthur Davis, 54, and said he died instantly. The body, clutching a pistol, was found near a county road about four miles north of Duffee.

Bail for Wife Refused

Woodbridge, N. J., Aug. 29 (P)—A Clifton man refused to pay a $15 traffic fine for his wife last night and she was jailed for 15 days. Adolph Koff, declined to pay the fine on principle after his wife, Anne Marie, 42, was convicted of failing to yield the right of way on the Garden State Parkway. Acting Magistrate Edward Kopper fined her $10 plus $5 costs. Mrs. Koff had no money and when her husband refused to pay she was sent to the Middlesex county workhouse.

Collision Victim Will Be Moved To Navy Hospital

William Charles Boughton, 21, of RD 1, Box 260, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps, who was arrested on two charges after a collision at Broadway and Stuyvesant street Sunday, is due to be transferred to St. Albans Hospital, New York from Kingston Hospital, for further treatment of injuries, it was learned today.

Boughton suffered lacerations of an arm and upper lip, and has been unable to appear in city court on charges of reckless driving without glasses.

Also taken to the hospital after the mishap were Vincent Lopez, 25, of Wappingers Falls, who suffered nose and chest injuries, and John Costantino, 34, of Highland, operator of the other car, who suffered back and chest injuries and a hip laceration. They were reported in "fairly good" condition today.

Officers Gilbert Gray and Floyd Krom, in reporting the accident, indicated they had been in pursuit of the offending car just prior to the collision.

Boughton was due to go to St. Albans, a naval hospital, sometime today. He will be due to appear in City Court after he is released from there.

200 Rabbits Are Destroyed by Fire

About 200 highly priced breeding rabbits were destroyed by fire in a barn in Kiskatom, Green county, late Tuesday morning.

The wooden structure owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Ufferts was in the town of Catskill between Routes 32 and 23-A.

It was reported that the rabbits were New Zealand whites, many of which sold for as much as $31.50. About two dozen were saved with a cow, two saddle horses and a number of guinea pigs. About five tons of hay were also destroyed.

The Catskill and Palenville Fire Departments and other volunteer companies had the blaze under control by early afternoon.

Greek Bishop Restricted

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 29 (P)—The British cracked down today on the leader of the Greek Orthodox Church in Cyprus. He is head of the Greek Orthodox Church on Cyprus in the absence of the exiled Archbishop Makarios.

Furniture Sold Out in Tuesday Hotel Auction

One hundred rooms of furniture in the Stuyvesant Hotel were sold Tuesday at an auction in the hotel which was heavily damaged by fire April 18.

"Everything was sold," Auctioneer William Sherrill Keyser told The Freeman.

The sale was attended by approximately 150 dealers. Buying was "pretty well distributed" among dealers throughout the Hudson valley area, Mr. Keyser said.

The sale clears the way for modernizing the hotel which it is hoped will be ready to reopen by the end of October. The hotel will become one of the most modern in this part of the valley, it is reported.

The furniture, some thousands of square feet of carpeting, etc., was being removed from the hotel Tuesday. Mr. Keyser said everything was expected to be out by tonight.

Each of the rooms contained a bed, dresser, luggage rack, upholstered chair, straight chair, bedside table, desk, table lamp, floor lamp, waste basket and carpet.

Farley Improving

New York, Aug. 29 (P)—James A. Farley was reported recovering satisfactorily today after a major eye operation to repair an injury suffered at the Democratic national convention in Chicago. The former postmaster general and long-time influential Democrat was operated on last Thursday at Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital for the correction of a detached retina of the right eye. Both eyes are still under bandages, and his hand immobilized to prevent movement of the injured eye, and to allow the retina, the vital outer membrane, to heal properly, a spokesman said.

Labor Heads ...

stained from voting. Four other members of the council were absent.

The AFL-CIO leaders, holding a political powwow in this Pocomo Mountains resort area, plan to follow up their decision today. They called a meeting of their political operating arm, the Committee on Political Education (COPE) to discuss plans for marshaling votes for the Democratic Stevenson-Kefauver combination and for labor-endorsed candidates for Congress and key state offices.

No formal endorsements for the congressional and state races were to be announced, but the union leaders planned to go over the records of rival candidates and lay the basis for picking and choosing among contenders in major contests.

The 28-man AFL-CIO council actually voted only to recommend a Stevenson-Kefauver endorsement to a meeting of heads of all 140 AFL-CIO unions in Chicago on Sept. 12. But Meany conceded this will only be a formality and said he hadn't "the slightest doubt" the labor group will concur.

24-Mile Drive

World's Longest Bridge Open to Autos Thursday

New Orleans, Aug. 29 (P)—The world's longest bridge—it takes nearly two gallons of gas to cross it—opens to traffic tomorrow.

A snip of a ceremonial ribbon, a lot of official celebrating and the first cars will begin rolling across the 24-mile Lake Pontchartrain toll causeway.

THEY WILL be riding on a $46,000,000 concrete and steel roadway stretching from Jefferson Parish just outside New Orleans to St. Tammany Parish near Mandeville. The time will be approximately noon — four months ahead of schedule and just one year and 99 days after construction began May 23, 1955.

The bridge consists of 2,246 concrete spans held 16 feet above the lake by 415,000 feet of hollow cylinder piles. It absorbed 325,000 cubic yards of concrete, 2,700 tons of structural steel, 16,000 tons of reinforcing steel rod, 4,150 miles of strand wire, 11,500 miles of solid steel wire and 48 miles of aluminum pipe for guard rails.

ALONG THE causeway are two lift bridges about 75 feet wide and three humps 25 feet above the water. The lift bridges are each a third of the way out, north and south humps four miles from either shore and the middle hump 12 miles out. There's a traffic turnaround nine miles north of the New Orleans end.

All this to save 29 miles or 40 minutes travel time by direct access to highways north of Jackson, Memphis and Chicago and west to Baton Rouge and the plains of Texas and east to Poplarville, Miss.

Overhead lights along all except the lift spans are prohibitively expensive, so night motorists will be guided by reflectors, 21,000 of them. Night drivers will be able to see a half mile ahead.

Named to Key Positions at IBM

C. P. Baccari A. Darnovsky J. Hood K. B. Robinson R. A. Whitehorne

International Business Machines Corporation has announced the appointment of five men to key positions in the Kingston Military Products Division. They are (l-r) Chester P. Baccari of Ratterman Road, Woodstock, to division manager of system test. Alexander Darnovsky, Woodstock, to division manager of manufacturing operations. James D. Hood of Zena Road, Woodstock, to division manager of personnel administration. Kenneth B. Robinson of RD 2, New Paltz, to division manager of field engineering education. Robert A. Whitehorne of 20 Lorraine Boulevard, Poughkeepsie, to division manager of engineering administration.

Mr. Baccari started with IBM in June, 1950, as a student engineer. After participating in the General Engineering Training Program at Endicott, Mr. Baccari became a machine designer in January, 1951.

Promoted to technical engineer, he worked on the development of calculators at the Poughkeepsie Plant until January, 1953. Then he was assigned to the logical design section of Project High. In August, 1954, he was promoted to manager of final systems test, and in December of that year he became a project manager.

A native of Ossining, Mr. Baccari is a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, which awarded him a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering. New Blood Banks For Atomic Age

Boston, Aug. 29 (P)—Potent new life-saving blood banks for the atomic age were announced today.

These banks stockpile a magical element in human blood that works almost instantly to stop bleeding caused by exposure to atomic rays, by leukemia, and in other diseases and conditions.

THIS NATURAL blood element is platelets, one of the three types of cells in human blood. Red cells carry oxygen; white cells fight infection. The platelets help control bleeding or hemorrhage. Each platelet is only a millionth of an inch wide, and it takes 30 billions of them to weigh one ounce.

Two methods of preserving precious platelets perhaps indefinitely were reported to the sixth congress of the International Hematology Society.

The rub has been that platelets die too fast. The platelets in a pint of blood die within a day after blood is donated to a bank.

BUT THE platelets now can be fished out of whole blood and preserved separately. One method is to quick-freeze and dry them into a white powder, kept in a sealed glass tube and then mixed with salt solution when a life-saving injection is needed.

This method was reported by Drs. Edmund Klein, Sidney Farber, I. Djerassi and P. Anrold of the Children's Hospital, Boston.

High School Opens Football Season, Sept. 22, at Albany

A communication from A. B. (Turk) Karam, of the Brooklyn Dodger scouting staff, sheds further light on the "tryouts" given Joey Hoffman, Tony Turck and Ronnie Ashdown on July 11 and hints they were something less than thorough.

"The report (about the tryouts) reaching you could be fairly accurate," Karam writes. "The tryouts were held under adverse conditions due to the rainy weather and wet grounds which forced postponements of tryouts scheduled for July 5, 6, 7, and 9."

"I was anxious to see the three youngsters on the final tryout day, which was July 11, but when I spoke to you over the phone I did not realize there would be so many attending this tryout. Our scouts and bird-dogs were forced to bring their players to the finals because of previous postponements."

"Also, the three players from Kingston arrived at Ebbets Field quite late because of traffic jams en route," Karam adds, "which did not help me at all. They were the last group to arrive and I was forced to place their names at the bottom of the scout's work sheets that were already made up."

"Right after the tryouts were over and the young players were getting dressed, the scouts gathered in their dressing room to select the 20 players for the Rookie team. You no doubt can realize the tough job we had with so many players attending the finals. As soon as I had the chance to get away I went looking for the Kingston players, but they were gone."

Karam goes on to say the Dodgers "have a reputation of giving every boy at a tryout a thorough check."

"At Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City," Karam adds, "during the preliminary tryouts we averaged just 26 players at each session to allow for a good check on each and every boy. At Ebbets Field our schedule called for 35 players at each session but the rainy weather forced us to postpone most of the tryouts. This led to a time element and forced us to hold such a large tryout on July 11. If I could have realized what was to happen on the 11th, I would have immediately stopped your three boys from coming to Ebbets Field for the finals. It just could not be helped."

The whole of Karam's letter rings with a tone of sincerity, but to this observer the methods of selecting the team have to remain suspect. The further evidence revealed by the official roster—with every player hailing from the metropolitan district—would indicate tryouts for other youngsters might be more or less token.

From what we saw of the 1956 edition of the Dodger Rookies, who lost something like 15 out of 25 games, the selection method could have been highly improved.

Not only did the team fail to measure up to standards of the past, in overall strength, but it apparently developed a few prima donnas. As Art Dede, the manager, told us:

"Some of these kids are more interested in signing meal checks than playing ball."

Flotsam and Jetsam:

On the theory that bowlers, like armies, march on their stomachs, Spindler's resort is throwing a pre-season feed for its 1956-57 array of legions. . . . Normally, the feeds come at the end of the campaign. . . . Someone asked umpire Jocko Conlon if he had ever been told to look for the alleged spitballs thrown by Lew Burdette of the Braves. "I don't have to be told," replied Conlon. "I'm looking for it myself. And I've never found it." . . . The official Soviet news organ, Pravda, recently expressed editorial concern over the mediocre results of Russia's Olympic trials and urged all Soviet athletes to eliminate their "serious shortcomings" before this year's games in Australia. . . . This could mean a track meet in Siberia, if the boys don't get hep.

Home Opener Set With Port Jervis On September 28

Kingston High School faces a rugged eight-game football schedule for the forthcoming season which includes four DUSO League games and four non-league skirmishes.

Beacon High is the only newcomer on the Maroon slate. The Dutchess county powerhouse replaces Lawrence High of Long Island.

Returning to the schedule are regular DUSO foes, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Port Jervis and Middletown and non-loop rivals New York Military Academy of Cornwall, Christian Brothers Academy of Albany and perennial strong Mont Pleasant of Schenectady.

The Maroons launch the grid season Sept. 22 against Christian Brothers at Hawkins Stadium in Albany. Then comes a string of four successive home games against Port Jervis, Sept. 28; NYMA, Oct. 5; Poughkeepsie, Oct. 13 and Mont Pleasant, Oct. 19.

THEY CLOSE the season with road engagements against Middletown, Oct. 27; Beacon, Nov. 10 and Newburgh, Nov. 22. The traditional NFA clash, of course is set for Thanksgiving Day morning.

All the KHS home games, with the exception of Poughkeepsie, will be played under the lights at Dietz Stadium on Friday evenings. The game with the Pioneers is a Saturday afternoon encounter.

Coach Bill Burke has set Sept. 4 as the first day of practice. Uniforms will be issued to candidates Sept. 1 and 3 between the hours of 9 and 12 noon and 1 to 5 p. m.

Last year's team wound up winning four games and losing four. In the DUSO, they also played 500 ball (2-2) and finished third.

THE LOSSES were to Port Jervis (13-12), Mont Pleasant (41-0), Lawrence (18-0), and Poughkeepsie (13-0). Wins were over Christian Brothers (26-7), NYMA (13-6), Middletown (21-0) and NFA (14-6).

Costly Loss

Tigers Jar Cubs, 7-4

The cellar-ridden Tigers jolted the flag hopes of the Cubs with a 7-4 victory in the Rondout Valley Little League.

The setback dropped the Bruins out of a three-way tie for first place. It marked the Bengals third win in eight decisions.

Ralph Temple was the hitting standout with a home run and a double. Len Harvey collected a two-bagger and Howard Larsen two singles.

Pirates Acting as Spoilers Against Flag-Hungry Braves

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Are Dale Long and the rest of Pittsburgh's short-lived heroes to become Milwaukee's pennant-block, just as the Pirates were to Brooklyn in 1954?

Brooklyn had edged to within a half game of first place in '54 and looked good and healthy with 10 games remaining against Pittsburgh in the last month and a half of the season. But the last place Pirates, who had lost 10 of the first 12 games with the Brooks, won five of those last 10, standing the Dodgers on end while the New York Giants copped the flag and the world championship.

THE PIRATES, who lost 12 of their first 18 games with Milwaukee this season, looked like the spoilers of old last night, coming from behind as Long hit a three-run homer to beat the Braves 5-4 and trim their National League lead to 1 1/2 games over the Dodgers.

And except for the fact Brooklyn was playing a doubleheader in the only major league park without lights, the Dodgers might have been only a half game shy of the Braves today. The Brooks split the twinbill with Chicago's Cubs, winning the opener 6-4 on three ninth-inning runs, but losing the nightcap 4-3 when play was halted after 7 1/2 innings by darkness.

Third place Cincinnati rose to just three games off the pace with an 11-1 barrage against the Giants. Philadelphia clipped St. Louis 6-4.

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, Mickey Mantle belted his 45th home run in New York's 4-0 victory over Kansas City in a game held to six innings by rain. The Yankees regained an eight game first place bulge as Cleveland lost at Baltimore 1-0. Chicago's White Sox split a pair with Washington, winning 5-3 after a 6-2 defeat. Detroit defeated Boston 6-3.

Long's poke triggered a four-run seventh that tied the score for the Cubs after Warren Spahn, seeking his 199th major league victory, had retired two men in the frame. Five straight hits set things up for the Pirates against the veteran southpaw. Dick Groat's infield single scored the clincher against rookie Bob Trowbridge in the eighth.

Elroy Face won it in relief of Dick Hall, who was tagged for Ed Mathews' 31st and 32nd home runs.

DON NEWCOMBE, working in relief for only the second time this season, won his 21st for the Brooks in the opener as Carl Furillo popped a fly that fell for a two-run single and broke a 3-all tie in the ninth. In the nightcap, Gene Baker's 11th home run and a bases-loaded walk by reliever Ed Roebuck broke up a tie game in the seventh for the Cubs. Duke Snider, sidelined by a knee injury, pinch-hit his 36th home run.

There were 13 home runs in the NL yesterday and Frank Robinson's second of the night was the 1,000th of the season (Long's was 1,001—262 shy of the major league record the NL set last season). The Cincinnati rookie slammed two, his 33rd and 34th, while Ed Bailey added his 23rd to account for seven runs. Joe Nuxhall won his 10th. Marv Blaylock, Solly Hemus and Del Ennis homered for the Phillies, but RBI singles by Curt Simmons and Richie Ashburn got the job done in a two-run sixth. Simmons won his 11th.

MANTLE'S WIND-BLOWN shot came in the third inning with two on against Art Ditmar. It put him five games up on Babe Ruth's record-60 pace in 1927—but the Babe hit his 45th in the same game. Bob Turley won his eighth with a two-hitter.

Cleveland and Baltimore each managed just four hits, but Ray Moore gave up only singles and didn't allow a man past first while winning his 11th for the Orioles. A single, balk and Bob Nieman's double scored the only run in the first off Hank Aguirre.

sons 17 and over. Doubles play will only be in the men's senior class.

Residents of Ulster county are eligible to compete. The winner in each classification will be crowned county champion in their particular class.

A match will consist of the best two out of three sets. Contestants will vie on the Forsyth courts unless instructed otherwise by the net committee.

To enter, persons must register at Forsyth Park or phone the recreation center.

Calhoun Favored 9-5 Over Webb

Chicago, Aug. 29 (AP)—Unbeaten Rory Calhoun of New York and Spider Webb of Chicago clash in a 10-round middleweight bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The fight will be nationally televised (ABC, 9 p. m. EST). Calhoun, 22-year-old former dishwasher who will be seeking his 24th straight victory, was an early 9-5 favorite.

Rory has scored 12 knockouts and recently defeated Charlie Cotton in 10 rounds at New York. Before meeting Colton, Calhoun stopped Willie Vaughn in eight rounds at New York.

Webb, 24-year-old former national collegiate champion from Idaho State, is unimpressed over the fact Calhoun has been made the favorite. Webb recently took a 10-round decision from Holly Mims.

Legion Nine Cops Recreation Pennant

Beat Lincolns 7-4 in Playoffs

American Legion won the Recreation Softball League championship yesterday with a 7-4 victory over Lincoln Park Inn in a game halted by rain and darkness at the end of 4½ innings.

The win was the second straight for the Legion in the best-of-three playoff. They captured the first contest, 8 to 1. Don Wolf checked the Lincolns with four hits, while the Legion picked up six off veteran Walt Bigler.

Catcher Bob Martin was the chief Lincoln tormentor with a home run, double and walk in three trips to the plate. Don Riehl chipped in with a pair of singles. Martin knocked in five runs.

JOE RUZZO homered with Mel Schlanger aboard for two Lincoln tallies in the top of the fifth. After Richie Nagele ended the inning with a fly to deep center, umpire Crespinio called the game.

Martin got into the heroics early. He led off with a first-inning walk, stole second and scampered home from second on an error to send the Legion ahead 1-0.

Lincoln Park gained a temporary 2-1 lead in the top of the second on Mel Schlanger's single with Duke Freer and Dan Simmons on base. Martin doubled home Don Riehl and Don Wolf to put the Legion ahead 3-2 in the second.

The Legionnaires applied the crusher in the fourth with an impressive display of batting power. George Heddy led off with a long triple and scored on Don Riehl's second single of the game. Wolf's singleton sent Riehl to third and Martin blasted a three-run homer.

The Colonial skipper appealed to all persons having season tickets to make returns as soon as possible. "There are a couple hundred season's still outstanding," Davis said, "and would like to hear from as many holders as possible by Labor Day."

Exhibition Tilts Split

Teams in the Town of Ulster and Rondout Valley Little Leagues broke even in a pair of exhibition games.

The ULL Dodgers bowed to the RVLL Tigers 5-4 while the Ulster Yanks walloped the Rondout Braves 14-7.

THE TIGERS captured their game with two runs in the last inning. George Williams and Gene Frost checked the Brooks on two hits, both by John Kelly. Williams was the winning hurler.

THE YANKS slugged three Brave twirlers for 10 hits in gaining their win. John Wojcio was the leader with three doubles. Other two-baggers were stroked by Bob Curtis, Floyd Turner, Tom Rowe, Fred Henninger and Rich Krohn.

ED KOEPPEN was the winning pitcher and Turner the loser.

The Braves thrilled the audience with two brilliant fielding plays. Turner in the first, making a diving stab of a ground ball and running over to make the unassisted putout at first. Turner was also involved in a snappy double play started by shortstop Pete Green.

Yanks Cop 2nd Half Pennant in Glasco-EK

Lou Spada's three-run homer rode the Yanks to a 6-3 victory over the Giants in a playoff for second half honors in the Glasco-East Kingston Little League yesterday.

The championship series will open Thursday at Glasco with the Yanks facing the Dodgers—first half winners. The second game of the set is slated for 2:30 p. m. Saturday at Glasco.

SPADA'S BLAST snapped a 3-3 tie and highlighted a four-run eruption in the fifth. It came after a walk, Paul Natale's double and Cosmo Sasso's single.

Bob Gallo, who started, was the winning pitcher. Natale nailed down the verdict with two great innings of relief work in which he struck out five batters.

Jim Davide was the loser, giving up nine hits. He was staked to a 2-0 lead in the first when Mike Mayone jolted a two-run homer. The Yanks nipped away at Davide for single markers in the next two frames before the losers regained the advantage in the bottom of the third.

DAVIDE STRUCK out 12 and walked three. Gallo whiffed nine and Natale five. The latter passed one.

The Yanks are managed by Ed Kime and the Giants, Joe Watzka.

Champion Cans Twelve-Footer to Gain Club Finals

Defending champion George Hughes had to fire a one-under-par 69 and run down a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th green to edge Charles J. (Jimmy) Turck, 1 up, in a semi-final match yesterday in the Twaalfskill championship flight.

In a quarter-final match, Clarence (Dubby) Raichle defeated Charles H. Gaffney, 2 and 1, after being 2 down on the first four holes.

Hughes was 1 up at the end of nine holes with a 1-under 34. A triple-bogie on the long fifth hole ballooned Turck to a 38.

THE CHAMPION toured the back nine in regulation figures with a bogie-5 on the 10th hole and the match clinching birdie-3 on the 18th.

Both drove to the flats on the 18th hole, with Turck in better position for the pitch shot. Hughes was hemmed close to the apple tree on the right side of the fairway.

The match virtually ended on the next shot. Turck's pushed into the woods on the right but the ball ricocheted from a tree back to the fairway. Hughes pitched beautifully to 12 feet. Turck topped his third shot, skidding it across the green. He needed four to get back on the carpet. Hughes stepped up and calmly rammed his birdie home to close out the exciting battle.

TURCK gained the lead on the first hole with a par 4 but double bogied the second and bogied the third while Hughes went 3-2 to go 1 up.

A birdie-3 on the fourth squared the match again, but Hughes got his par-5 on the fifth while Turck, in trouble both times on the hole, needed a seven. They halved the next four holes to leave Hughes 1 up at the turn.

They halved the 10th, 11th and 12th holes, both with bogie-5s on the 10th, before Turck got his second birdie on the 13th (fourth) to square the match. Hughes got a par 5 on the 14th (fifth) to Turck's bogie-6 to lead 1 up. Turck evened it again with a par 3 on the 15th. Both birdied the seventh and halved the eighth (1) before the denouement on the 18th.

HUGHES advanced to the finals in the upper bracket of the championship flight and will meet the winner of the elimination involving Alvin Boice, County Judge Louis G. Bruhn and Dubby Raichle.

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP)—The United States defeated Australia, 6-4, in an informal international tennis team match today.

Three singles matches were played and two doubles. All were two sets and a point was awarded for each set won.

Thus the United States won five of a possible six singles points and Australia three of a possible four doubles points.

DICK SAVITT, whom the Americans are hoping will join their Davis Cup team, looked very good in defeating Neale Fraser, 6-4, 6-1 while Herb Flam, No. 7 on the American list, turned back Aussie ace Lew Hoad, 8-6, 6-1.

Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex., and Ashley Cooper, one of Australia's younger players, split their two sets. Cooper won the first 6-3 and Giammalva the second 6-4.

In the doubles, Hoad and Ken Rosewall whipped Giammalva and Barry McKay of Dayton, Ohio, 6-3, 6-4, and Malcol Anderson and Roy Emerson of Australia, divided with U. S. youngsters Mike Green and Mike Frank. The Aussies won the first set, 7-5, and the Americans the second, 6-3.

FBI Urges Best Men Be Hired for Sheriff Staffs

Schroon Lake, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—New York state law enforcement officials have been urged to concentrate on attracting high-calibre personnel to their ranks.

An official of the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday told 150 law officers at the 22nd annual convention of the State Sheriff's Assn. that the American people "don't want cut-rate law enforcement."

Inspector Gerald C. Gearty of the FBI's inspection and training division said "the old truism that you get only what you pay for applies equally to law enforcement."

The three-day conference ends today.

Power Output Declines

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—The nation's production of electricity declined slightly last week from the all-time record of the previous week, but maintained a level 4 per cent higher than the same week a year ago, Edison Electric Institute reported today. Industry sources attributed the drop to an aluminum strike, decreased automobile production and generally cooler weather.

Power output for the week amounted to 11,340,000,000 kilowatt-hours, compared with 11,794,000,000 the week before and 10,906,000,000 for the corresponding week of 1955.

New York, Aug. 29 (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says he expects to decide by the end of this week whether he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator. The mayor gave that word in answer to a question at a news conference late yesterday. Before Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-Liberal) announced last week that he would not seek reelection, Wagner had said he did not want to run for the Senate this year.

Fair Labor Day Is N. Y. Forecast

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 29 (P)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today, to 7:30 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Normal summertime weather is expected the next 5 days, Wednesday evening through Monday. Warm and humid with widely scattered afternoon or evening thundershowers through Friday, more general showers or thundershowers Saturday. Then turning fair and cooler Sunday, with fair weather probably extending through Monday.

Western New York—Another wet period is indicated, with temperature change through Saturday, gradual clearing and cooler Sunday, generally fair Monday. About 1/2 to one inch of precipitation is expected.

Temperature normals — Normal temperatures at this time of year in upstate New York show daily highest readings in the middle 70s to near 80. Overnight lows range in the middle and upper 50s.

Weather Impedes Hunt for Plane

Camp Drum, N. Y., Aug. 29 (P)—Stormy weather today impeded a search for a Connecticut National Guard plane missing with a pilot and possibly a passenger.

1st. Lt. Charles W. Allison Jr., 33, of (50 Stewart avenue) Norwalk, Conn., took off from Albany Airport Monday in the single-engine L-19 liaison plane. He was bound for this northern New York post.

Officials here said the weather conditions grounded all craft but helicopters at this end of the search area.

But farther east, the search continued. A spokesman for the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Albany said air-sea rescue planes from Westover AFB, Mass., were out and CAA planes were searching out of Glens Falls.

Ulster Votes Tonight On Fire Equipment

Qualified voters of the fifth fire district of the town of Ulster will vote tonight on the issuance of a capital note of $6,550 to purchase fire apparatus.

Polls will be open from 7 to 10 p. m. at Ulster Hose Co. No. 5. Proposed equipment would include 750 feet of two and a half inch hose to fit new hydrants in the district, a resuscitator for two persons, a portable electric power unit to supply light when it is unavailable at fires, a portable pump and replacement of tires on fire trucks.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Is it permissible to move insured furniture clear away from a property where there is a fire? Is it still insured?

ANSWER: It would actually be the duty of the insured to move any undamaged furniture to a safer place. The insurance would remain in force temporarily at the new location.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

vidual income taxpayers.
The new budget document showed an anticipated spending increase of $2,700,000,000 this year over the actual outlays of fiscal 1956, and a considerably smaller increase in revenues—$1,700,000,000.

EXACT COMPARISON was difficult because the highway construction act set up a special trust fund to handle both highway revenues and expenditures. These therefore have been removed from the budget figures, and the January estimates have been scaled down accordingly. Expenditures which Eisenhower reported as $65,865,000,000 are now shown as $65,065,000,000, and revenues are revised from $66,300,000,000 to $65,485,000,000.

The sharp increase in spending to $69,100,000,000 was attributed by Humphrey and Brundage principally to a $2,406,000,000 increase in crop support outlays. These are expected to rise as the soil bank comes into operation. Larger crop yields and higher support levels also will step up the outlays of the Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC).

THE SPENDING estimate of the Defense Department has risen 453 million dollars, reflecting the increase in air force funds voted by Congress and other rising costs.

A 378 million share of the increase is ascribed to the Post Office Department; Eisenhower's recommendation for postal rate increases was not enacted.

Other increases since the January reckoning included: A 229 million dollar increase in the government's payment to the civil service retirement fund; a 199 million increase for the Housing and Home Finance Agency; a 197 million dollar rise for the Treasury Department, mostly because of increased interest charges on the public debt and a larger estimate of claims against the government; and a 181 million dollar rise in the public assistance grants to the states and other programs of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Four Men Held ...

co-conspirators who were to deliver the money.

Riesel was blinded April 5 when acid was tossed in his face outside a Broadway restaurant. Telvi was found shot to death July 28 in an East Side street.

After the arrests yesterday, Williams said:

Johnny Dio, among others, was the man who directed, instigated and arranged the payoff to Telvi in the acid attack on Victor Riesel. This is in direct relation to Riesel's planned testimony about labor racketeering before the federal Grand Jury.

Riesel, 41, long a syndicate newspaper crusader against criminal elements in labor unions, has also said the acid attack was planned to scare him out of testifying.

The dapper, 42-year-old Dio—whose actual name is John Dioguardi—was nabbed at his home on Point Lookout, Long Island, N. Y.

Picked up elsewhere were Thomas Dioguardi, 40, his brother and an executive in a cotton goods firm; Domenico Bando, 47, a Brooklyn baker; and Charles Tuso, 44, a garment worker. All have long criminal records.

A fifth man, Charles (Charlie Wopple) Carino, 43, also was charged yesterday with conspiracy. He was arrested Aug. 18 and held in $100,000 bond as a material witness.

Two other alleged conspirators in the attack were arrested Aug.

inspection of steering and wheel alignment. These include whether there's any wear in the king pins and bushings (the front wheels of your car are attached to the king pins) and any looseness in wheel bearings.

The entire steering system, from the steering wheel to the tie rod under the front of the car, will be examined. This also goes for cars with power steering.

Wheel alignment — to determine whether your wheels toe in or out—is a must. Your car won't pass if a check with a toe-in bar shows the alignment is not within the manufacturer's specifications, or if the sideslip indicator shows the sideslip is more than 30 feet per mile.

Head, tail, and parking lights and turn indicators will be checked closely.

The headlights, for example, must be an approved type and two in number. Among other things, the lenses and reflectors must produce matching beams. Each light must give a reading of at least 5,000 candlepower on the upper beam, as shown by a meter. The lights must be focused and aimed correctly. All wires and switches must be in good condition.

Under law, all passenger vehicles manufactured after Jan. 1, 1952, except those operated with dealers' license plates, must be equipped with directional signals of a type approved by the commissioner.

Because of the difficulty of determining which of the 1952 models were manufactured before the Jan. 1 deadline, the bureau will require the directional signals only on passenger vehicles of a 1953 model or later for inspection purposes, except those operated with dealers' plates.

Directional signals are required for all commercial vehicles.

Freight Cars Derailed

Two freight cars of the New York Central railroad's mountain branch, which derailed this morning at the crossing on East Strand near the city's sewage disposal plant, blocked traffic on the street. Police were notified of the derailment at 8:50 a. m. The street was torn up for about 20 feet, and a sedan owned by Robert Buck, of 83 East Strand, was struck by one of the cars and damaged on its trunk, rear bumper and a rear light. The crossing was reported cleared at 11:05 a. m.

17. They are Joseph P. Carino, 43, who is not related to Charles, and Gondolfo Miranti, 37.

AFL-CIO leaders, gathered for an executive council meeting at a Forest Park, Pa., mountain camp, said that if Dio is guilty of complicity in the Riesel case he should get "what is coming to him."

Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union with which Dio has had connections, said "he's no labor leader to the best of my knowledge. He doesn't belong to our organization."

Dio obtained Teamsters Union charters for a number of non-existent locals earlier this year to help try to seize control of the New York area Teamsters organization. AFL-CIO leaders are expected today or tomorrow to change AFL-CIO policy so as to prevent such future chartering of "paper locals."

Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and a member of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee, said Dio "got what he deserved."

Saugerties Club Posts 500 Acres Of Hunting Land

Annual posting of approximately 500 acres of Saugerties area farm and wood lots will start shortly after Labor Day, the Saugerties Fish and Game Club announced at its monthly meeting.

The club president, Elden C. Myer, will serve as chairman of the posting committee.

The club said the project was designed to protect the hunting privileges of members who support the club with dues, special donations and spare time and would also serve as an incentive to increase membership in the club.

THE LENGTHY discussion revealed that the 500 acres only constitute approximately 10 percent of the available 5,000 acres of hunting and fishing grounds in the area.

Stocking of fish and game at the expense of the club has been going on for some time and approximately 300 pheasants now being raised under the supervision of the club will be set out prior to the season. Stocking of fish and game supplied by the conservation department and U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be done in unposted lands in the area, in accordance with the regulations governing such allotments, it was announced.

Donald Delamater who is raising the pheasants for the club reported that the birds were thriving and that overhead screening at the pens was accomplished with the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ehrler and Conrad F. Martin.

CARLTON B. King, president of the Federated Sportsmen Clubs of Ulster county and a member of the Saugerties club, reported that an analysis by the Kingston Laboratory of specimens of the water from the upper Plattekill above West Saugerties showed that these waters were favorable for trout stocking. The report showed no harmful bacteria in the waters. The findings of the analysis will be directed to the conservation department.

A special report on a survey conducted by the club to determine the movement of trout in local waters was submitted by Basil Kane. The report was made on the basis of 30 per cent returns on trout tagged and released in the spring. Mr. Kane said that the survey indicated that within the first six months after release, trout do not move from where they are stocked. However, he said that flood conditions could change this pattern.

New members accepted into the club included Eugene Derrbach of West Saugerties; Jansen Dederick, Philip M. Breithaupt, Louis Alvarides Jr. and Andrew Semays, all of Saugerties and Emerson Mayes of Kingston.

The old and new auction held following the meeting showed receipts of over $80.

The award of the month was presented to Earl Cook of West Saugerties.

Basch Condition

John Wallace, 40 of 148 West Pierpont street, was driven by Leslie Wallace of the same address on a learner's permit. A police report attributed the mishap to faulty brakes, and the driver was fined $20 in City Court on an "inadequate brakes" charge. The car had hit the sedan of Ann Morris, 32, of 17 Liberty street, driven by George Loughran, 34, of 91 St. James street, before crashing into the restaurant, police said.

Driver Fined $20

Joseph Edwards, 26, of 16 Delta Place, was arrested at 3:10 a. m., today by Officers Francis Buchanan and Louis Sapp Jr., on Washington avenue on a charge of speeding. He was fined $20 in city court.

British railways own 122 steamships, which carry about 17,000,000 passengers a year.

Wallet With $350 Is Reported Missing

Local police were asked yesterday to investigate the loss or theft of a wallet containing $350. Mrs. Mary Fenton, of 42 Taylor street, reported the wallet missing and police were notified last night by an Ulster Park man that he had seen two boys pick up a wallet on North Front street.

Mrs. Fenton had advertised her loss in The Freeman, the report noted, and the Ulster Park resident said the missing wallet might be the one picked up by the boys. He had seen it on the street, he said, but before he could get parked, the boys found it and ran away with it.

Marca to enter a plea of temporary insanity "caused by his desperation over debts."

Markowitz made the statement at a news conference in New York city attended by the prisoner's wife, parents and other relatives.

"The only defense I know of at the moment is temporary insanity," the attorney said. "We believe that he was unable to distinguish right from wrong."

Police say LaMarca has confessed stealing the 32-day-old infant and abandoning him at Plainview, N. Y., not far from the LaMarca home.

The kidnaper left a note demanding $2,000 ransom but was frightened away and didn't collect.

LaMarca bought a $15,000 home recently and was unable to keep pace with expenses. He was said to also owe $2,000 for storm windows and a refrigerator.

LaMarca was transferred yesterday from his cell in police headquarters here to a cell in the Nassau county jail around the corner. A 24-hour guard was continued on the prisoner to prevent any suicide attempt.

a crash if the car ahead should stop or turn unexpectedly.

Keep your mind on the job and your eyes on the road. Many accidents are due to simple distractions.

If you are driving a heavily loaded car or pulling a trailer, remember the extra weight will require more acceleration time and stopping distance. The car's stability on curves may be difficult, too.

Death Is Accidental

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 29 (P)—A certificate of accidental death has been issued in the death of Miss Maureen H. Milligan, 19, whose body was found at the bottom of a 130-foot cliff in nearby Elma Aug. 18. Medical Examiner James J. Creighton said last night that the results of toxicology tests indicated no foul play. The body of the pretty office worker was found at the bottom of the cliff directly behind a home where she had planned to spend the night.
